He didn't believe in hot baths—No Sir! etc!

The old-time country doctor didn't "let much stone" by regular bathing. Too much exposure—causedague and chills and all sorts of miseries. In aristocratic Boston in 1845, bathing was forbidden for the reason on medical advice—and in 1890 when the President ordered a bathhouse installed in the White House, he was severely criticized and warned of the consequences to his health.

Today we know that bathing should be part of our daily routine. We take more baths—have better health—live longer. Our abundant hot water makes the bath a usual and relaxing way of life. This is why we furnish non-stop hot water every hour of the day and night.
