MRS. A. C. FISHER TAKEN BY DEATH

Funeral Services To Be Held Tomorrow From Home On Ridgedale Avenue

Mrs. Frances G. Fisher, 78 years old, for nearly 17 years a resident of Birmingham, died at her home 318 Ridgedale avenue late Tuesday.

Funeral services will be held at the residence at 2 p. m. tomorrow with Rev. R. M. Atkins, officiating. Burial will be in the Elmwood cemetery, Detroit.

Mrs. Fisher, widow of Albert C. Fisher, the son of Maxwell M. Fisher, was born in Vermont in 1856, coming to Michigan with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Gurin, at an early age.

In 1894 she moved to Birmingham where she resided on west Maple road, a land formerly known as the Fisher farm. In 1910 she returned to Detroit where she has lived until she removed to Birmingham last fall.

Mrs. Fisher was the mother of twelve children eight of whom survive: Robert L. Fisher, James D. Fisher, Russell H. Fisher, Mrs. William Van Every, Mrs. Edwin Colby, Mrs. Samuel McCann, and Mrs. Thomas Thurbly, all of Birmingham, and Mrs. Harry Colby, of Milford.

Rotarian Head Praises Club

(Concluded from Page 1) ligation to society, especially toward the youth of the world, and to unfortunates, such as crippled children.

Rotary has also made a generous contribution to the business and professional world through its creation and encouragement of codes of ethics for various fields of endeavor. And Rotary's sixth object, which is to advance understanding, goodwill, and international peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men united in the ideal of service, is having far-reaching effects in aiding the outlary of war.

Mr. Heitke praised the work of the Birmingham club, especially along the lines of boys' work and crippled children's work.

Prior to Mr. Heitke's talk, David Ladd, chairman of the club's committee on crippled children, related the effort which the county chapter of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children is extending to obtain support from the Oakland County board of supervisors to advance $5,000 annually to carry on the work in the chapter. They will meet with the supervisors in Pontiac today for this purpose, he said.

VILLAGERS AND THE VILLAGE

(Concluded from Page 1) estimated the price of the supposedly empty bottles. He started to haul them away, but fled with his cart before he had taken more than half the bottles. A member of the family discovered one that he left was full of very old beer—and the mystery today is whether there were many more full bottles that Joe Junk discovered before he made his hurried exit with them.

TARIFF BACKED BY FORDNEY

(Concluded from Page 1) articles. A high tariff must be levied in order to give the local producer and consumer a square deal. The free trade advocated by some is not for the interests of the American manufacturer because they can not compete with foreign costs.

Statistics show the position of United States in world trade is gigantic. With one-sixth of the world's population, it uses 27 per cent of the total output of raw silk, 75 per cent of the world's petroleum, 48 per cent of the iron, 51 per cent of coffee, and likewise equally large percentages of other products. One billion five hundred million tons of coal are mined each year in the world, and this nation uses 37 per cent of this, or 566 million tons. If we should cut down our consumption to a quota per capita according to the world's population there would be no market for foreign products and a financial distress would be prevalent in many countries. Japan depends on us to use the silk output and Brazil, its coffee.

Cites Example "To cite a practical example of why we should protect and support our own producers may be shown in the south. In a county of one of the southern states I found that most of the cotton being exported to Belgium mills. The labor in the Belgium mills before the war received 18 to 25 cents a day while in a mill in the south a scale of $1.25 was maintained.

"The cotton which was made into cloth in a foreign country could be purchased in a local store. The same cotton which grew in the south went all the way to Belgium and back again as cloth to be sold to the people at a high price. Why can't this cotton be consumed by mills in the south. In fact, in the same neighborhood there was a cotton mill. If a stringent policy of producing and using American made articles was followed it would be of benefit to our industry," said Mr. Fordney.

It is my firm belief that everything possible should be done to promote the industries, both manufacturing and farming. Ultimately this should be done by levying a protective tariff large enough to offset the difference between the cost of foreign and home products.

HILLS ORDERS FIRE TRUCK

metal is expected to be chromium plated, a time-saver in polishing. Every possible provision has been made in making the order from the La France firm to have a speedy and full equipped truck adequate for the village's needs, and no expense in accessories and equipment has been spared, it is reported from the commission. No provision has been made for a pumper because of the limited water supply in the village. The fighting apparatus is entirely chemical. Firemen will be instructed in the operation and care of the trucks by experienced men from the La France company.

Plans for retaining the truck are tentative. One man is expected to be hired for full time. Others are to be volunteers. The fire department will be located in the building at Woodward avenue and the Long Lake road owned by Oris S. Price.
