

NIGHT CLASSES KEEP GROWING

Enrollment Jumps To 128, Records Show; Business Courses Popular

Enrollment in Birmingham public night school has gone up to 28 persons, besides the 20 persons who are taking R. J. Coryell's course in landscape gardening. Melvin C. Hart, principal of the Baldwin High School announced. The enrollment has jumped from 65 persons at the first meeting of the classes to the present number of 98 showing the growth

WE HEARD IT SAID BY—
Frank Schlaack, local meat dealer: "Every year, for the past 18 years, I have gone up into Ontonagon County in the Upper Peninsula during the deer hunting season. Most of the time our party has used nothing but a tent for shelter; some people may think a tent too cold but, with the aid of a stove, we have always been very comfortable."

ing interest in the plan. Mr. Hart pointed out that Business courses remain the most popular with typewriting and shorthand claiming the largest number of students, reports show. Bookkeeping and business arithmetic also held much interest for the students, Mr. Hart said.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Birmingham, Michigan, October 8, 1928. The regular meeting of the Board of Education was held in the office of S. F. M. Present: R. J. Coryell, Ray A. Palmer, Fred V. Quanton and Guy W. Jensen. The minutes of previous meetings were approved. Moved by Jensen supported by Quanton that Ray A. Palmer be appointed to represent the Board of Education on the Woodward avenue improvement committee. Mr. C. A. Bingham, chairman, carried. Mr. George A. Dondoro and Mr. A. E. Moore, attorneys for the School District of the City of Royal Oak met with the Board of Education and its attorney, Mr. O. H. Foster, and discussed the proposed transfer of territory in Maplecrest subdivision, Royal Oak, and the S. W. 24, Section 32, Troy from District No. 1, Bloomfield to said School District of the City of Royal Oak. It was agreed that the issues should be handled and submitted to the Attorney General of the State of Michigan for an opinion. If his opinion is not satisfactory to the officers of both districts, a friendly suit will be instituted at once in Circuit Court and an appeal taken to the Supreme Court for a final decision. A petition was received from the Senior Washington Group for a Carnival to be held in the Baldwin building, October 27. Moved by Jensen supported by Palmer that the petition be granted. Vis: Jensen, Palmer. Mayor Quanton, Coryell. Motion lost. The request of Lucella Sharp Knudsen for the use of a room in the school building for instructing in dramatic work was denied.

The WORLD and All

NOISE WITH MEALS

The genuine tin piolate for good advice is awarded this week to the Pacific Caterer, a magazine for hoteliers and restaurateurs published in Seattle. Advising proprietors, it says: "Most people want to eat in peace and quiet. A restful restaurant atmosphere evokes a slight of satisfaction from the tired patron as he sinks into a chair and concentrates on the menu. Other things being equal, the quiet eating place has an advantage over the noisy one."

silverware is deafening aye, mad-entide. "Keep kitchen noises down to a minimum, even if you have to use a Maxim silencer on the dishwasher. Kitchen clatter disturbs diners. Even a so-called hush noise can be conducted in a quiet, gentlemanly manner."

I sincerely hope that every keeper of an eating place will read this advice. And I marvel that the idea has never occurred to any writer before. There is a chain of white-tile restaurants, charging prices big enough to warrant brainy management, that drives thousands away by the simple device of throwing dishes into some sort of mechanical dish-smasher in the dining room. Waitresses, instead of taking the dishes quietly out to the kitchen, are compelled to sling them into a resounding steel hopper which is strategically located where it can annoy the most. "Noise distracts and irritates. Train bus boys to handle dishes as silently as possible. In some restaurants the clatter of china and

Another New Home in Bloomfield Village

No longer is it necessary to sacrifice the conveniences of city living to enjoy the spaciousness of a Bloomfield Hills location.

Bloomfield Village has every city improvement. Already more than a half-million dollars has been spent to provide water, gas, electricity, telephone, sewer, shade trees, gravelled driveways, concrete curb and gutter and cement sidewalks.

From Birmingham rapid transportation is provided by the frequent service of trolley cars, buses and jitneys to downtown Detroit.

Bloomfield Village homesites, none less than 75 feet in width, are available at prices from $2750 upward. Literature on request.
