How To Achieve Beauty

By Miss Helena Rubinstein

After-Summer Bleaches
 No matter how much you may read upon the necessity for getting rid of freckles and sunburn, the results are not so certain as chances are that autumn finds you with at least minor discolorations, and probably minor ones, probably when you are buying a new fall wardrobe, you will find it well to realize that never becoming a tan may be the best, it is not quite the thing for the social events which winter always carries in its train.

Beaches must depend upon the skin you wish to obtain. In the places, we have all variations to contend with, from the best to the not brown, which frequently remains until late in the fall.

For the mild variety, try the following formulae. The first calls for infusions made from fresh elder and horseradish. These are easily made. In removing freckles, another simple formula is to pour a cup of boiling water over a large bunch of elder and horseradish. Cool, strain and use the liquid. To remove a nut-brown tan, use a little stronger preparation. For this, try magnesia and rose water made into a cream. Leave this on from fifteen to twenty minutes and wash off with water softened with oatmeal and almond meal. The oatmeal may be browned in the water or in a little cheesecloth bag. If you are still suffering from irritation of sunburn, bathe

ABOUT WOMEN

Because her husband insisted that 21 of their relatives live with them in their three-room cottage, Mrs. Helen R. Moore of Millville, N. J., is suing for divorce.

Charging that her pet goose attacked her, Mrs. Amelia Facteau of Washington, D. C., has sued Mr. and Mrs. John R. England for $10,000.

Miss Mary D. Donan, who won the Pulitzer traveling scholarship at the Columbia School of Journalism, New York, has gone to Europe for a year's study.

Miss Ethel Hertle of New York was awarded $10,000 for winning the 10-mile "Wrigley" marathon swim from a field of 52 entries.

Miss Lizzie Clay of Bangor, Eng., has retired after 40 years' service as auxiliary mail carrier during which she walked 200,000 miles.

Miss Louise Battle of Dothan, Ala., who won a U. D. C. scholarship four years ago, recently won another offered by the Alabama D. A. R.

Seven wives whose husbands had lost money to Warren V. Moore of Chicago secured his conviction.

Vogue For Blue Extends To Shoes And Gloves

By LUCY CLAIRE

Fashion Expert for Central Press and The Eccentric

The range in new blues for dresses and hats is wide and varied. The bright sky tones, the steel, the china and the independent blues, we have with us for afternoon, evening and street wear. It is interesting to note that the shades of blue are true navy, invariably in kid, that, oddly enough, blends with practically all the other shades.

The vogue for navy blue has extended even to gloves. They have trims of cream or gray to stress the keynote of the costume.

Chocolate Cookies
 If your family is as fond of chocolate as mine it will welcome a new chocolate cookie recipe. These cookies are easily made, so that even if your apartment is small with one of the tiny kitchenettes so popular in cities these cookies can make them easily and in a short time.

Today's Recipes
 Chocolate Cookies—Best whites of three eggs to snow, add three-fourths of a cup of powdered sugar, one cup of ground sweet chocolate, one cup of walnuts, chopped; three tablespoons of flour. Drop by teaspoons onto greased baking sheet. Bake at a slow oven. This should make about one and one-half dozen.

Suggestions
 Re-Heating Hint
 When reheating fresh vegetables or heating canned ones you will find that a small double boiler is most satisfactory. The vegetables can be thoroughly heated without an over cooked appearance or taste. Also use this method in combining fresh cooked vegetables for succotash, as only the liquids and seasoning you wish to serve the vegetables in are necessary.

Chocolate Stains
 Chocolate stains can be removed from suits and dresses by slightly moistening borax and leaving it on the fabric for several hours. This, however, only applies to white materials, as the borax is apt to take the color out of poorly dyed material.

When old John Wamamker was a young man he promised a pious friend that he would never sell playing cards. To this day playing cards cannot be bought in a Wamamker store. But they sell poker chips and dice in any quantity.

Wife Preservers

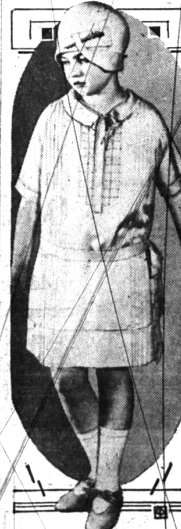

Use a small white brush for scrubbing the clothes for using. It dampens them evenly and they can be soiled much sooner.

Brown is going strong for fall that it may have a tendency to run beige out of the lead for next spring. There are as many tones and as great variety in browns as in blues, and then some. The reddish and darker browns, with beige, lead in popularity for fall. This is more especially true of the sports models. The center photograph shows the very popular sports model in a reddish brown cloth, accompanied by a beige jersey jumper, sitting, appliqued bands of the cloth on a lattice design. The jacket is of the collarless cardigan type, designed by William Bloom. With it are worn sports shoes in brown and beige kid, sunburn hose and a beige and brown felt hat.

Gray, in combination with black, is very smart this season. Gray has had a hard struggle for supremacy, but now that it is being combined with contrast, seems to be making better headway. Another model by Bloom, photographed at the right, shows a long coat ensemble in a dark gray tweed, accompanied by a knit sweater in broad stripe design, the stripes beginning in black and fading gradually from gray to white. A very fine metallic thread is woven through the design. Black mat kid shoes in a one-strap model, trimmed with gray lizard, and one of the new Hyland felt hats, with crown of gray and brim of black, are worn with this ensemble. The hat is the new sports type that dips on the side, is short in front, and diminishes to almost no brim at all in the back, in the latest version of the favorite vagonbonnet.

Her Sunday Best

This 'pretty' little hand-made dress for the very young lady is made of rayon crepe. It is trimmed with pleats and a vestee effect is hemstitched and embroidered.

FOR REMOVING DUST
 THE VACUUM CLEANER HAS NO EQUAL

VACUUM cleaner attachments make it almost effortless to remove dust from the hard-to-get-at places. Powerful suction draws dust into the bag—instead of spreading dust anew. Everywhere in the household, dust collects: on bare floors, along picture molding, on walls, behind radiators, in furniture upholstery—but the vacuum cleaner draws it out.
