INTERURBAN CRASH KILLS MAN AT TROY

Inquest Planned in Death
Of D. P. Hall Of Big
Beaver

An inquest is planned today in the death of D. P. Hall, 43 years old, of Louis street, Big Beaver, who was killed in his touring car at 7:17 a. m. Monday when a northbound interurban street car struck him as he drove across the tracks at Main street and Big Beaver road.

Funeral services were held yesterday for Hall from the Spiller funeral home in Royal Oak where the body was taken after the collision. He is survived by his widow, a daughter, Lillian, and son, William.

The man, who worked in Royal Oak, had just left his home one block from the crossing, and was apparently unaware of the street car. Witnesses told Deputy Elmer Ford, who investigated the accident five minutes later, that the interurban sounded its whistle several times. The street car, piloted by C. Hansford of Detroit, was traveling at a high speed and was only able to stop after running 200 feet beyond the crossing. Witnesses attested to Deputy Ford that the motorman was evidently not to blame.

Hall was hurled clear of his small touring car and was dead when picked up some distance away. Examination disclosed he was considerably maimed. The crash was heard by the victim's family at his home and others in the neighborhood said they heard the car's whistle and then the crash. The car was found for Flint. The conductor was L. Brownell of Detroit.

KITCHEN CUPBOARD

By NELLIE MAXWELL

French Cooking

THERE is much to be said for starting at least one meal a day with a good hot nourishing soup. The following are a few culled from French cuisine: Consommé Soup.—Put into a saucepan a cupful of shelled chestnuts. Cook on a slow fire without salt for half an hour. Then remove the brown skin. Put the chestnuts into a mortar with a slice of dry bread and pound to a paste, adding a little bouillon to soften the bread from time to time. Pass through a strainer, add bouillon and cook for another half hour. Serve with croutons.

Onion Soup.—Peel six large onions, cut into thin slices. Cool lightly in butter. When partially browned add a tablespoonful of flour and continue cooking until the mixture is brown. Add water, salt and pepper and cook for a half hour or more or until the onions are tender. Strain if desired and serve on toast with grated cheese.

Pot au Feu.—The meat used is a piece of stew or shoulder or leg. Many cooks think the addition of the bones and feet of a chicken add the finest flavor. Cover with cold water and simmer for two hours, skimming once or twice. Now add vegetables such as carrots, turnips, parsnips, leeks and onions, with a sprig of thyme, a clove of garlic and two bay leaves with a stalk of celery. Cabbage and potatoes, too, may be added. Add a little kitchen bouquet to give a brown color. Serve very hot when the vegetables are cooked.

Chicken Bouillon.—Take a pound of stewing meat, and an old rooster or lean pullet, cut into small pieces, cover with cold water and simmer until it has begun to simmer add seasoning to suit taste with cloves, a few herbs and carrots and turnips cut into bits. Cook until the meat is very tender. Drain and serve.

PLAN FINISH IN NEW CHURCH

Dedication Of Troy Edifice
Attended By 200
Persons

Plans for completing church equipment are being made today following the dedication service of the Troy Presbyterian church last Sunday morning.

Dr. M. C. Pearson, leader in church extension work, for the Detroit Presbytery, made the dedication address and awarded the keys of the church to Mrs. Adelaide Neal, who will take charge until a caretaker is appointed. Dr. Pearson stressed co-operation of the church members.

More than 200 persons attended the opening services which were made impressive by a large floral display and the formal presentation of the keys, the desk and the Bible. Mrs. Sarah Grindley presented the desk and the Bible, which came from the old Scotch church in Detroit. Official introduction was made at this time of L. W. Porter, Birmingham Presbyterian elder, who will serve as the Sunday school superintendent and minister in charge of the church. The congregation meets tonight with Mr. Porter to organize and plan committees to take care of church work.

Fifteen children were christened at the dedication services. Flowers were presented by Mrs. H. Hunter, Miss May Wattles and Miss Erma Rogner.

The church, which is located on Main street, one block north of the Wattles road, was built and remodelled from a large barn into a commodious building to house the growing Sunday school and church membership. Gifts of $1,000 were made by Fred Smith and Joseph Grindley to purchase the church site and building. The board of church extension has financed the remodeling of the building and a new congregation is being organized this fall. Formerly the Sunday school classes met in the home of Mrs. Adelaide Neal, a prominent church worker.
