Make Your Selection Reflective

More So Than Ever

This will be a year for Personal Greeting Cards. The improvement in the cards themselves since last year will make this inevitable. The effort of an individual to create something original for personal use has often in the past discouraged initiative. But such initiative is unnecessary this year. The selections themselves are so varied and original.

Expressive!

Sentiments for cards this year seem to have been taken from philosophy rather than a poet factory. Meaningful thought and sincerity have been employed in the greeting contents. "Dear" and "Best" and verbose repetition find no place in thought content.

Colorful!

Color of richness and rhythm predominate. And happily—there are some of obvious modernistic motif this actually are delightful.

Counter Cards

Counter Christmas Greeting Cards will be placed on display. Announcement will be made shortly regarding these.

The Better Cards of Individuality
