

'Y' GROUPS SOON GET UNDER WAY

Leaders For Various Groups Reported By Robert D. Lynd

The season's work for the Y. M. C. A. groups will open with a meeting Monday evening at the Adams School, according to Robert D. Lynd, secretary. On Tuesday evening groups will meet in the Pierce, Baldwin and Quanton schools, Mr. Lynd said.

Volunteer leaders met last evening at the Mr. Lynd's home for dinner and to discuss the plans for the year.

Earl Corvont will be the leader of the senior Hi-Y group.

COMPETITION STARTS IN RURAL SCHOOLS

Rural schools in this section are competing in the fifth yearly attendance contest staged in Oakland County. Schools making the best records for the year will be awarded large framed pictures.

Pictures have been given as prizes for the past five years. According to E. J. Lederle, county school commissioner, they have competing schools in the past four years. Cornelius Smith, 6 years old, of Philadelphia, fell from an express train going at full speed, escaped unharmed and said it was "fun."

BOWLING

The bowling season was opened Tuesday night on the alleys in the Birmingham theater building. The teams of the Merchant league competed in the opening session.

Next Monday the house league will compete and on the following Friday the Masonic league opens its journey.

Scores of the Merchant league are as follow:
