TO THE MOTORING PUBLIC

I have been closely associated with the automobile and motor industry since its early pioneering stage. Through my acquaintance with practical and laboratory tests of motor fuels and motor oils I have learned that The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) have no superior in the manufacture of these products. In opening my new station I am pleased to offer this company's gasoline and motor oils to you with assurance that you will be completely satisfied.

Why Not Be Well?

YOUR health depends on the function of all the various parts and organs of your body. Each organ must function in harmony with other organs, or the whole system is out of balance. Thus sickness or disease is the result of too much or too little function of some organ or organs.

As everyone knows, the function of all parts of the body is controlled and directed by the Brain and Nervous System. There are nerves running from the brain to every part of the body, and these nerves control every tissue in the body in every respect—the feeding of the cells of the structure, repair or replacement of worn out cells, elimination of waste matter from the tissue, and the work or function that part performs.

Anything that interferes with this nerve supply results in an abnormal condition in the part involved. A pressure on a nerve by a harder, denser tissue will reduce its carrying capacity, and the most common place for a pressure of this kind is at the point where nerve leaves the spine. Even a slight displacement of the spinal bones (vertebrae) will cause enough pressure on the nerve leaving the spine at that point to reduce its capacity, and if this pressure is continued the tissue supplied by this nerve will suffer.

A Chiropractor is trained to detect these slight displacements (subluxations), and knowing that pressure on certain nerves produces corresponding results, he can usually tell your condition without asking for symptoms. Better yet, he is trained to replace (adjust) these vertebrae thereby restoring the carrying capacity of the nerve, and nature is able to repair the damage done to the tissue involved. In addition to the ability of the Chiropractor to detect these conditions by his sense of touch, modern science has given us the X-Ray which enables us to see these subluxations, and other instruments that can detect an impinged nerve and trace its course.

CLUB NAMES DELEGATES

Mrs. Robert Chissus, Mrs. Retta Barr To Attend Session

Mrs. Robert Chissus and Mrs. Retta Barr, of the Birmingham Woman's Literary club have been named the delegates to attend the eleventh annual meeting of the southeastern district Michigan state federation of Woman's clubs to be held next Tuesday and Wednesday at the McGregor Library, Highland Park.

Drama day, April 30 will be observed by a play presented by the graduating class of the Edna Chaffee Noble school of Expression, of Detroit.

A skit by two of the members and solos by Mrs. Samuel McCaul will supplement the program, which will follow a luncheon at the Methodist Church honoring the guest artists.

Mrs. M. M. Morgan and Mrs. Fred Crawford are in charge of luncheon reservations. Tuesday's program dealt with American sculpture and architecture arranged by Mrs. J. H. Otis.

Mrs. Otis outlined the period between the Hudson River school and that of which Stanford White is a member. She told of the work of Augustus St. Gaudens and mentioned him as one of America's outstanding sculptors, illustrating her talk with slides.

The life and works of Stanford White were presented by Mrs. Louis Hessel and was illustrated by prints of his more famous works. She termed him the greatest designer that America has produced.

Piano selections by Mrs. Frank Swartout, of Detroit, completed the program. Mrs. Clarence Vile reported Miss Rhett's lecture at the Detroit Federation meeting and Mrs. C. A. Bowls presented an invitation from the curator of Chinese art of the Institute of Arts, Detroit, to attend one of his lectures.

NEW SUPPLY STATION OPENS IN BIRMINGHAM
Of interest to Birmingham motorists is the opening Saturday of a new Standard Oil company filling station at Quarton road and Woodward avenue. G. S. Mitchell, formerly of Grosse Pointe, will be proprietor.

The station is of Normandy type architecture and will be known as the Quarton Lake filling station. It will offer a complete motorists' service, those in charge announce.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Smith, of Holly, celebrated their twentieth wedding anniversary with their three children, Vera, Raymond and Russell at the home of Mrs. Smith's mother, Mrs. Francis J. Bowers, of Southfield avenue. Mrs. Smith's sister, Mrs. O. A. Hunt and family were also present.

Mrs. J. B. King, of Seminole drive, is entertaining tomorrow at a bridge luncheon.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McGregor, of Oakland avenue, announce the birth of a daughter at the St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, on April 3.

D'MOLAY PLAY HERE FRIDAY

Veneta, Cook, Leland Gunn Are In Leading Roles

All is in readiness for the performance tomorrow at 8 p. m. in the Eskwin High School auditorium of the third annual DeMolay play, "Fast Workers." It is the first act fare with clever lines introducing many bits of high comedy. Action centers about the wealthy young man with a mania for speeding played by Leland Gunn, and Veneta Cook as the winner of a Vermont beauty contest. Circumstances which bring the two together furnish the plot for a highly amusing love story.

The play is being starred under the direction of Mrs. E. Devoey Kimball. The personnel of the cast includes: Veneta Cook, Evelyn Pastore, Bertha Luback, Leland Gunn, William Spence, Richard Fleming, Clarence McMillen, and Velma Wilkinson.

CRANBROOK GETS ADDITION

Construction On New Dormitories Starts In Hills

Construction is under way today on two new dormitories, a study hall and class rooms at Cranbrook school to be completed by Sept. 1.

Classes will be organized to provide for a fifth form, which corresponds to the junior year in public high schools. The increase in the curriculum is in accordance with the custom of the school to add one form yearly until the quota be reached.

In addition to these, three new faculty houses are being constructed on the banks of the River Rouge. Eiel Saarinen, architect of the school and Christ Church, has designed the new structures also.

Exchangites Hear War Experiences

War-time experiences were recounted before the Birmingham Exchange club at their luncheon meeting Tuesday at the Lone Pine Inn by Count Alfred de Niezchowski. The count, who was an officer on the war ship, "Kronprinz," was the guest of Guy W. Jensen.

He claims to be the only surviving officer of the crew. He is a member of a Polish noble family and now makes his home in Detroit.

The speaker told of the raiding and sinking of British and French ships, after looting them of their cargoes. He has recently written the story of the "Kronprinz," which will soon be published.
