VILLAGER WEDS IN DETROIT

Miss Lucile Wickham Becomes Bride Of Dr. H. A. Roehm, Of Hills

The St. Joseph's Episcopal Church, Detroit, was the scene Tuesday of one of the most important weddings of the season for Birmingham and Hills society.

All eyes were turned to the simplicity at three o'clock Tuesday Miss Lucile Wickham, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. Wickham, of Detroit, and Dr. Harold A. Roehm, of Bloomfield Hills, took their vows with the Rev. Warner L. Forsyth, rector of St. James Episcopal Church, officiating.

All vases of gladiol and white roses were mingled with the masses of cymbidium ferns that banked the altar. Simplicity was the keynote of the decorations with ivory cathedral tapers shedding a soft light on the bridal gown.

Antique Ivory Gown The bride was beautifully gowned in bridal robes of antique ivory satin, tightly fitted with a back and sleeves of rare duchesse lace. A full skirt fell from the molded waistline in an uneven hemline which formed a train in the back.

At a simple home ceremony at half past eight Miss Lucile Wickham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Vliet, of Brown street, will become the bride of William Victor Owen, of the First Presbyterian Church, of Birmingham.

Miss Mary Owen, of Buffalo, N. Y., was the bridesmaid, and the bride, while Clarence Vliet, Jr., brother of the bride, will act as best man.

A reception at the bride's home will follow the ceremony. Miss Margaret Rainey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rainey, of West Maple avenue, has also chosen Saturday for her wedding.

Her marriage to Milton Mallerer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mallerer, of Chestnut road, will be solemnized at five o'clock at a ceremony in the First Presbyterian Church.

The nuptials will be read by the Rev. W. McKnight, pastor of the minister Presbyterian Church, Detroit, and formerly of Birmingham.

Miss Margaret Rainey, a sister, will attend the bride as maid of honor, while Miss Margaret Ross, of Birmingham, and Mrs. Edith Beurnann, of Monroe, will act as bridesmaids.

Two younger sisters of the bride, Miss Edith Esther and Edith Rainey, will serve as junior bridesmaids.

The ceremony will be attended by George McKnight, of Detroit, son-in-law, and the following will act as ushers: Dr. Weir Burkman and Stewart Baine, of Birmingham; Clinch Crocker, of Northville; and Alfred Bowman, of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Mallerer plan to reside in Royal Oak.

GRIFFITH-SMITH NUPTIALS HELD IN INDIANAPOLIS

Of social interest to Birmingham and the Hills was the wedding of Miss Anna Louise Griffith, daughter of the late W. Griffith, of Indianapolis, and Guy Chester Smith, of Pembroke road, Bloomfield Hills, which was solemnized at 6 o'clock Saturday evening in the old Christ Church, Indianapolis.

The ceremony took place before a small group of friends and relatives with Bishop Joseph Francis reading the nuptial service.

For the occasion Miss Griffith chose a gown of ivory bridal satin fashioned with a yoke of duchesse lace long treasured in the Griffith family with points of similar lace edging the sleeves.

From the long light bodice a full circular skirt hung, falling into a long sweeping train. Her bridal veil of duchesse lace was bound to her head coronet fashion with inserts of rose point lace.

The bride carried an ivory kid prayer book from which hung a spray of white satin ribbons into which were knotted sweetheart roses and lilies.

Upon their return from a wedding journey through eastern Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Smith will reside in the Hills. Mrs. Smith is prominent in Indianapolis social circles, being a member of the Junior League and identified with Dramatic Club and Little Theater groups.

She attended Dana Hill, and Miss MacLean's School in Paris.

DELIGHTFUL AFFAIRS FETE VISITOR HERE

In compliment to Mrs. Robert Thomas Brooke, of Birmingham, Ala., who is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Justus Osburn, of Tooting lane, many delightful affairs have been given in the past fortnight.

On Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. George A. Staples, of Grosse Pointe, entertained the guest at a dinner at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, and on Friday evening Mrs. Brooke was honored at a similar affair given at the Detroit Boat Club by Charles I. Fairbairn, of Detroit.

A dinner at the Bloomfield Hills club was given for Mrs. and Mrs. Osburn on Saturday evening. The tables were adorned with garden flowers with places marked for the following: Mrs. Brooke, Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Stevens, Mrs. Fairbairn, Dr. and Mrs. Robert James, Mr. and Mrs. Manly D. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison J. Strangham, Dr. and Mrs. George F. Raynale, and Mr. and Mrs. William G. Lorchen and Mr. and Mrs. Osburn.

Mrs. Stevens was hostess on Monday at a luncheon bridge for a small group of friends at the Fox and Hounds Inn, in compliment to the visitor. On Tuesday Mrs. W. A. P. Jones and Mrs. William J. Blythe, both of Tooting lane, entertained at dinner at the Detroit Athletic club and a theater following. Among the guests were: Mrs. Brooke, Dr. and Mrs. Albert Clark, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. P. John, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Justus Osburn, Mr. and Mrs. Blythe and Charles I. Fairbairn.

An informal tea given yesterday by Mrs. Osburn complimented the guest, Thomas Strangham, who is entertaining at a dinner party for 12 persons at the Bloomfield Open Hunt club and on Saturday Mrs. Eric Kimbrough, of Grosse Pointe, will entertain at a similar affair at her home. Mrs. Brooke plans to leave for home Sunday.

LEAGUE TO MEET Members of the St. James League of Women will hold a meeting Wednesday at "Valhalla," the home of Mrs. T. R. Donovan. Luncheon will be served at one o'clock.

On Saturday Mrs. W. T. Cushing, of Oakland avenue, will be hostess to a group of matinees. Mrs. Leonard Brown, of Pierce street, will entertain for Mrs. Shay at a bridge luncheon at her home.

What Blondes Prefer-

As well as brunettes is a particular head dress, to set off the natural glory of their hair. It doesn't pay to trust the fine hair to indiscriminating dressers, and we recommend the art of our specialists.
