TWO NEW MEMBERS TAKEN BY ROTARY

Louis H. Saunders And Robert E. Aldrich Join Birmingham Service Club

Louis H. Saunders, retail auto-salesman, and Robert E. Aldrich, manager of the local S. S. John B. Howarth, secretary of the club, read a letter which he, for the club, had received from the Wexham, West Sussex County, England, Rotary club, as part of Rotary's program to create international goodwill. The letter was in response to one sent by Mr. Howarth two months ago, and contained a brief description of Howarth and his people, and closed with a fine cordiality for Birmingham and its people.

Next week Mr. Howarth and Warren P. Gibson, president, will attend a meeting of president and secretaries for this district of Rotary International, to be held at St. Clair. The meeting will last two days, and will take up subjects relative to the coming year's Rotary activities in this area.

Key Hunt Costs Disorderlies $100

A hunt for a key to their automobile cost Jack Williamson, 3572 Fourteenth street, Detroit, and Thomas H. MacKenzie, of 3038 Tyle street, Berkeley, fines of $50 each Saturday in Justice Floyd S. Buck's court on disorderly charges. They were given alternatives of 30 days.

Williamson and MacKenzie attracted the attention of village police Friday night while searching for the key to their machine which they claimed to have lost.

Williamson and MacKenzie, unable to get the necessary ingredients, bought everything else he found in the apartment. When he came back he mixed up everything and made a great number of dishes out of the mixture. The guests came and dinner was served. In the midst of it, one of the guests pointed toward one of the dishes and asked the host, "What is the name of this? It is delicious." Confused and surprised, the host said, "Chop Suey." This in his dialect means "the mixture."

After a while the lady who loved Chop Suey said again: "What do you always eat with chopsticks? I hope you did not mind my asking you so many questions. I am really interested in the customs of the different peoples. They are fascinating, don't you think so? How do you drink? How do you cut your hair? If I could have been sure that this lady had some sense of humor, I would have told her that our chopsticks are made like the straw which people use in the soda fountain, and that when we drink the soup we suck through one end of the chopsticks. However, answered saying, "We have spoons."

"Do you have spoons? Oh, I did not know that." "And now tell me this," my interrogator went on, "I understand you do not use knives at the table. How do you cut your food? For instance, meat."

"Everything is cut in the kitchen," I answered simply. "Of course, that's very sensible, too. And—and, thank you very much for telling me this and about the Chop Suey. I'll tell my husband about the Chop Suey. He'll come to like it, you will. Thank you. You know I am awfully interested in the affairs of other people."—Washnetan Tribune.
