There you'll find SHUN TAN and COPPER TAN LOTION, CREAMS and POWDERS, and a CLEANSING cream, that Dorothy Gray has prepared for the modern Helens of Troy.

HOWLEY MAY QUIT IF NOT FIRED

DAN HOWLEY BILL KILLEFER

The managerial situation with the St. Louis Browns is still up in the air, despite the fact Brown officials deny that Manager Dan Howley, left, will be asked to resign. For Howley's friends now intimate he may quit at the close of the season because of "front office" interference. Bill Killefer, right, Howley's first aid, and former manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, is mentioned as Howley's successor, but says he wouldn't take the job if it were offered him.

DEADLY GOSSIP

We read in a dispatch from Russia that twelve persons who gossiped about a school teacher, who surrounded her with "malice and intrigue" until she committed suicide, have been persecuted and sentenced to prison. This, in America, would be called drastic. Persecution for gossip, for slander, for "hounding" somebody, is rare. Slander suits, even when successful, do not put the slanderer in jail. The court in this particular Russian town has an accurate idea of the steady power of gossip. Sending people to jail for malicious and unfounded gossip is not too severe a penalty.

AHEAD OF AMERICA

Some of the fine points of civilization, some of its luxuries, some possibilities of comfort and happiness, we in this country have yet to learn. Consider the town of Nancy, in France. Over there they have passed a curfew law aimed at saxophones. Nobody may play a saxophone after 10 p. m. What could be sweeter than a curfew like that?

LAND OF PATIENCE

Speaking of not hurrying on decisions, an Ohio woman, back from South America, calls the republic of Uruguay the "land of patience." Down there nothing is done today that can be done tomorrow. While that policy can be over-played, many of us have something important to learn from the Uruguayans.

GETTING ACQUAINTED

Muskingum college, one of the well known smaller colleges of the middle west, recently is among the graduates Prince Bahaward, Habte-wold, of the Royal House, hold of King Ras Tafari Menkopen, Ethiopia. If he stays in America he will have to change his name for the sake of comfort and convenience. Probably he will not stay here. The prince will go home and he will have a great deal to tell his people about America.

Armanent or disarmament, leagues of nations, and international courts cannot do as much for the world as can be done by the process of having a few thousand boys from abroad attend American schools and a few thous-

CURIOSITY

News dispatches tell us that crowds gather on Sunday to see the Howlers go to church. Relentlessly people of every rank and station pursue Col. Lindbergh and his bride. Men and women will drive for hours, walk run or wait tirelessly to see the momentary dash of a train through a country town, hoping they may catch a glimpse of a distinguished figure at the window or on the platform.

We laugh at curiosity and pity the Howlers and the Lindberghs who are victims of it in its most advanced forms. But curiosity is a vital quality of the human, one of the most useful and important of all his qualities. Without curiosity there would be little progress. It is the ever-present, everlasting urge to know, to find out, to satisfy curiosity that results in steady improvement.

No invention without curiosity. No discovery without curiosity. Without curiosity nothing but the dead level of monotony.
