

F. H. HIGGINSMAN WILL FILED

Widow Of Late Banker To Receive Bulk Of Estate; Daughters Named

The will of Francis Hagerman, aged Birmingham banker, who died at his home on north Woodward avenue Aug. 4, after a prolonged illness, is filed in Probate court, Pontiac today.

The bulk of the estate, the total of which is not named goes to the widow, Mrs. Rosetta Hagerman. Mrs. Alice Hagerman has three daughters, receives $500 outright and Miss Gertrude Hagerman, the other daughter, receives $2,000.

Arthur C. Peck, a former business associate of Mr. Hagerman is named administrator of the will. The will was drawn April 4, 1929 and filed in Probate Court last Monday.

THE WAY OF THE WORLD

By GROVE PATTERSON

WHAT THEY REALLY THINK

A writer on motion picture topics says that on the surface there is apparently no such thing as jealousy among the stars. The men especially praise each other's work and even the work of those not present until the group narrows down to two or three. Then, says this writer, the real truth comes out. Of course, it may not be the truth at all. It is just an opinion. "But we learn that actors and actresses differ little from the rest of us. Too many of our compliments are insincere. We say, he's a fine fellow, BUT—"

CONCENTRATION

It doesn't take so much time or a great deal of energy to do a great deal of work. The time and the energy are mostly consumed in standing around before we start to do what there is to be done. We use much time and effort in doing a number of trifling things that are quite unnecessary in order to do the beginning of the real job we know ourselves to begin sooner or later. Usually later.

Probably the one time above all others that most people need on every kind of job is concentration.

QUACKS

Missouri has a state board of health that is making a drive against quacks—unlicensed "doctors" and questionable practitioners of all kinds. It is also after violators of the narcotic act. This Missouri state board deserves the praise and attention of similar bodies everywhere. Quacks, the unlicensed, uneducated practitioners of one thing and another may do as much harm in a community as those with more pronounced criminal tendencies who go to jail.

THE FARMER MAY SMILE

Babson sees the state of the farmer improved. Drought in the northwest has raised wheat prices. The settlement of the German debt problem clears the way for greater exports. The establishment of the federal farm board at least puts the farmer in a better state of mind if it does nothing else. Finally, news that the world's wheat crop is down means more money for American farmers.

Well, between "ultimate" and chance, between weather and hard work, between good soil and bad and for a number of other reasons with which the government can't deal, the farmer may be coming into a better day.

Frank Gilbert of Edgewater Park, Miss., caught a Spanish mackerel which had a $5 Federal reserve note lodged in its gills.

Property Purchase shouldn't be left to luck

Buying or selling, it may mean a lifetime's savings. Your local Realtor—recognized by this Board as a real estate expert—is pledged to loyally serve his clients.

His services cost no more—yet include recognized ability, experience, real knowledge and in the event of a dispute, impartial justice from the Board.

"Spirits" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches on Sunday, August 11.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "New when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought him unto him; and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them" (Luke 4:40).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The baptism of Spirit, washing the body of all the impurities of flesh, signifies that the pure in heart see God and arc approaching spiritual life and its demonstration" (p. 241).

Jobs in Jest

Dietitians say vitamins are plentiful in hash. And we often have wondered what else.

You can't pull that old wheeze about bathing suits being sold "one-half off." They're mostly four-fifths off these days.

And hasn't it been an awfully long time since Jack Dempsey was heard to say he would fight again soon?

Driving an automobile in the city these days is merely a hit-or-miss proposition.

Recent prison outbreaks indicate the country needs better prisons. Why not less and better prisoners?

The Graf Zeppelin has made its reputation on gas—but public speakers shouldn't be tempted to follow its example.

This story is vouched for by F. L. Stoddard, a well-known New York artist: Seeing a sick cat kneel over in the street and in imminent danger of being crushed by a truck, a big dog dashed to the rescue, took the cat in its teeth and carried it to the sidewalk and safety.
