

11 CARS CRASH IN VILLAGE ON BUSY DAY

Motorbus Passengers Have Narrow Escape In Collision

NONE IS INJURED HERE

Eleven automobiles were involved in accidents in Birmingham over last week end, but no one was injured.

Passengers who alighted from an Eastern Michigan motor bus at Woodward avenue and James street late Saturday escaped injury when an automobile driven by George Lewis, of 7739 John R. street, Detroit, crashed into the bus, damaging both machines.

Other accidents reported to police were of a minor nature.

VILLAGE STORE IN NEW QUARTERS

Davidson Obtains Greater Floor Space in New Briggs Building

Louis Davidson, proprietor of the Birmingham Department Store, at 132 south Woodward avenue, this week announced plans for the removal of his growing establishment to larger quarters in the new Briggs Commercial & Investment building, now under construction on the southeast corner of Maple and Woodward avenues.

"The constant growth of Birmingham and vicinity, and the increased confidence placed in our store, make it imperative that we enlarge our quarters," stated Mr. Davidson yesterday. "Present plans are to enlarge our space about three times, including the addition of several new lines of merchandise."

The new store will have an entrance on Woodward and Maple avenues, extending in the form of a right angle, stated Mr. Davidson, who expects to be in the new location upon its completion this winter.

Tweet, Tweet! The poor little birdie cooped up in its gilded cage with no job to worry about, no crowded streets to cross, no new shoes to break in and no ditches to wash, should be kicked out for not singing.—Life.

STIFF FINES GIVEN DISORDERLIES

Buck Assesses Three Autoists $75 Each In Justice Court

Three motorists, charged with disorderly conduct, were fined $75 each Monday by Justice Floyd S. Buck, with alternative of 45 days in jail. They are: Joe Jackson, 54 Auburndale avenue, Highland Park; Robert W. Paulson, 631 Smith avenue, Pontiac; and Claude Steenes, 193 Baldwin street, Pontiac.

Their companions, arrested on similar complaints, paid fines of $25 each. They are: Lloyd Williams, 22 1/2 Second boulevard, Pontiac; Mick Kostello, 10005 Tractor avenue, Fordson; and Clifford Morelock, 691 Franklin road, Pontiac. The arrests were made Sunday by Officer L. A. Martin, of the Hills police.

Small Fish Cost More Than Large

Fishing season continues to bring its game law violators before Justice Floyd S. Buck with two more persons arrested on that charge.

Fines of $15 each were paid Monday by R. B. Yovich, 60 Gillette street, Pontiac, and Raymond James, 554 east Palmer avenue, Detroit, charged with having undersize fish in their possession.

Many of the faculty of Northwestern University, as well as several prominent citizens of Evanston, Ill., were indignant when summoned to the police station to answer to charges of "traffic violations." It was discovered that students had found a lot of summons blanks lost by a policeman and had filled them out and sent them to the professors and others as a joke.
