Dinner Stories

An Aurora newspaper calls attention to a nursing bottle advertisement which concludes with: "When the baby is done drinking, it should be unscrewed and laid in a cool place under a tap. If the baby does not thrive on fresh milk, it should be boiled."—Railroad Red Book.

Your Choice
"Will you marry me, dearest?"
"Certainly. Companionate, trial or light-to-a-finish?"—Up-to-Date

The cost of mailing a post card in France is regulated by the length of the message written upon it.

Frenzied Finance
Smith—Are you getting a new car this year?
Jones—Yes. That is, as soon as I've paid for the one that I had before the one I've got now.—Life.

Gym Teacher (to girls): "Lots of girls use dumb-bells to get color in their cheeks."
Bright One: "And lots of girls use color on their cheeks to get dumb-bells."—Kansas Sour Owl.

Cruel and Unusual
Timid man (to clerk): "I'd like to see some er—er—er silk stockings."
Clerk: "Do you want them for your wife, or shall I show you something better?"—Author Unknown.

Mistress: "So your matrimony life was very unhappy. What was the trouble? December wedding May?"
Chloe Johnson: "Lan' sake, no, Mam! It was Labor Day wedded to de Day of Rest."

Skip Parsons and his wife went fishing. Mrs. Skip was quite new to the game and when she hooked a small trout she wound it in until it was very near the end of her rod.

"What do I do now?" she asked excitedly.
"Climb your rod and stab the beast," advised Skip.

If you are planning an auto tour this year, get a large road map. It will tell you every thing you want to know, except how to fold it up again.—Life.

Perhaps the greatest surprise of the season is when a boy comes home from college, and finds that people sleep at night instead of during the day.—Life.

Men never fight duels over women any more. Nowadays the woman just shoots the one she doesn't want. And that's that.

Gentlemen frequently marry brunettes before they begin preferring blondes.—The Looker-On.

Repeal and Branded
A Scotchman called up the doctor in great agitation.
"Come at once!" he said. "My wee child has swallowed a saxepene!"
"How old is it?" asked the doctor.
"1894!" replied the canny Scot.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Myra—After all, you know,
