Dinner Stories

A BUSINESS AFFAIR
An Irish priest offered sixpence to the boy who could tell him who was the greatest man in history.
"Columbus," Columbus, answered one boy.
"George Washington," answered another boy.
"St. Patrick," shouted a bright little Jewish boy.
"The sixpence is yours," said the priest; "but why did you say St. Patrick?"
"Right down in my heart I knew it was Moses," said the Jewish boy, "but business is business."
"You're right, I'd have to be," Author Unknown.

Adam's Ale
Housewife—"Look at this milk, it's disgraceful!"
Milkman—"What's the matter with it, mum? It looks as right as milk to me."
"Everybody's Weekly."
She—"I suppose you're just crazy to kiss me!"
He—"You're right, I'd have to be." Author Unknown.

Just for Fun
"How long you in jail for, Meg?"
"Two weeks."
"What am de charge?"
"No charge, everything am free."
"Ah, mean, what has you did?"
"Done shot my wife."
"You killed yo' wife and only in jail for two weeks?"
"Dat's all—then I gits hung." Author Unknown.
"So I said to her: 'Do you remember the boy that used to pull your pigtails at school?' and then she said: 'Oh, is that who you are?' And I said: 'No, that was my father.'" Wroe's Writings.

Usher (to cold, dignified lady):
"The difference between a knocker and a price-cutter," said an old business man, "is that one is descended from a flea and the other from a skunk."

Corrupting Influence
Mother—"Son, do I smell tobacco on your breath?"
Son—"Yes, mother."
Mother—"Then you will have to try an Eccentric Classified Ad."

Senora Luisa Trapesos
Senora Luisa Trapesos of Barcelona recently gave birth to her 29th child.
"My girl got her nose broken in three places."
"That! Teach her to keep out of those places."—Bloss.

Curiosity Box
"What kind of a fellow is Smith?"
"Well, if you ever see one fellow trying to borrow money from another, the fellow shaking his head is Smith."

Oh, a joint bank account must be nice.
"Yes, it's a lovely arrangement. My husband deposits the money, and I draw it out."—Wroe's Writings.

It's nice to drive through the country and see the farmers' front yards blooming with brightly colored sun flowers, hollyhocks and gasoline pumps.—Life.
