Room, of Barbour Terrace, Dr. and Mrs. John Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Garber, of Bloomfield Hills, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mack, of Birmingham, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ferris, of Birmingham, and Mrs. John Lander, of Yorkville road, and Mr. and Mrs. Nann, will see "Remo Control" at the Detroit Civic Theater to night. The play, which will return to the Gordon's, will be for supper.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Keppel gave a Gypsy ball at the Cranbrook gymnasium last night. The ball room was transformed into a Gypsy camp, with pine trees in the hall, and the moon shining overhead. There was a large fire in the fireplace with an iron kettle hanging over it, and over at one corner, a fortune-telling tent. Later, the 100 guests, who came in costume, were served a Gypsy box lunch.

A progressive dinner and sleigh ride will give New Year's Eve. Among the guests will be Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Salisbury, of Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Gibson, of Short Hill, N. J., who are the house-guests of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Salisbury, of Lakeside avenue. The party will proceed by sleigh to the homes of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Usher, of Lakewood; Dr. and Mrs. Seymour Hart, of Vinewood avenue; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gibbs, of Oakland avenue, where the first course of meal will be served. The dinner course will be served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Salisbury, who will be assisted by Mr. and Mrs. William Stribling, of James Stone, Mrs. Warren Hills, of Vinewood, and Mrs. Irving Babcock, of Lone Pine road. Mr. and Mrs. George F. Salisbury will serve the dessert course at the Babcock's home, where there will be dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Salisbury will hold open house New Year's day and evening in honor of Mrs. Dickerman and Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Salisbury, their house-guests. One hundred guests are expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Dudley L. Hayes and their young son, Robert, of New York city, arrived Sunday night to spend New Year's at Mr. Hayes' mother, Mrs. Nancy Hayes, of Brownell street, and his sister, Mrs. Charles Plunstead, of Lincoln.

In honor of Mr. Hayes, his former classmate, Mr. Kenneth Birmingham, entertained last night at a bridge party in his home, "Pinhurst."

Seventy-five people attended the scene of the Community house dances for young people Saturday night.

A musical soiree will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Hammond on New Year's night. The string quartette in honor of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra will give a concert for about 100 guests. The affair is sponsored by Mrs. George T. Hendrie, Mrs. T. Bronley, and Mrs. Frank L. Bronley.

Mrs. C. A. Newcomb, of the "Junipers" entertained Mr. James Newcomb, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Booth, and their three children, and Miss Nancy Newcomb over the holidays.

Another delightful progressive dinner is scheduled for New Year's Eve when a group of Birmingham and Hills people will assemble at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Duffield on Southfield avenue. The soup course will be served at the home of Henry S. Booth's on Cranbrook road. Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Paterson will serve the dinner course.

The Lone Pine Inn will be the scene of the salad course and will be beautifully decorated for the occasion. A sprig of fern and a rose will be on each plate, and large bouquets of flowers will decorate all over the rooms.

The dessert course will be served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wallace, on Lone Pine road. The party will attend the Mid-night service at Christ church, and then return to the Paterson's.

Guests include Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Booth, Mr. and Mrs. James Booth, Mr. and Mrs. Paterson, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Duffield, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Beresford, Mr. and Mrs. William B.
