The broadcasting of a session of a state legislature, especially for the benefit of school children, is putting the radio to its best use. The average man, who may think he is a good citizen, takes little

If humanity is to be made better and civilization improved, says Dr. Wiggam, there are at least four kinds of people who can't help much. First, there is the optimist who believes that silk purses can be made out of sows ears by deep breathing. Second, the pessimist, who, having to choose between two evils, chooses the worst. Third, the conservative, who believes that nothing must ever be done for the first time. Fourth, the radical, who believes that nothing must ever be done except for the first time.

Dr. Wiggam, in the middle distance is made up of two characters: life is problems thoughtfully, who is neither a fool nor a genius. He is not a radical or a conservative. He watches and weighs and considers the facts and is not afraid to act.

Some years ago a fund was set up to be used to educate young Russians who were obliged to leave their native country and had no means to pursue their education. I have helped about thirty-three of these young people in American schools in the college year of 1927-28. It is very interesting to note that not one failed in his work, and that from the quarter to a third of them were students of the sciences. These young men, different in many ways from Americans, coming from a far country, were able to compete in the finest way with Americans in our universities.

Fortunately for civilization, the human mind is scattered over the whole earth. No matter how small the group, the fact is still and always will be evident that no na-
