YOUTHS EXPLAIN CONFERENCE TALKS

Accompanied by Robert D. Lynd, local Y. M. C. A. secretary, Jimmy Drum and Ronald Jones, two Birmingham youths whose expenses to a recent Older Boys Conference at Flint were defrayed by the club, told members of the Birmingham Exchange club of their impressions, and thanked the club for sending them. The talks were given Tuesday noon at Lone Pine Inn.

Ronald Jones said that he was impressed by the speech of a college football coach at the Conference, said Jimmy Drum, "for this coach told of the part that clean sportsmanship plays in life as well as athletics."

Ronald James said that he was impressed with a speech on wholesome amusements and watched and heard that I heard many fine things said that I had never heard before, and they woke me up to a clearer understanding of how I can make my own life better. Boys like myself look up to the older men as examples for us to follow, and glad that you Exchanges sent me to the Conference, where everybody was friendly and willing to help me in any way possible."

Mr. Lynd then spoke briefly on the work of the local Y. M. C. A. and emphasized the necessity of grown men to govern their own community toward better things, and may blaze the correct trails for the youth that is every coming to maturity. "It is the right kind of an example for your own boys and girls, as well as for other youths who are watching you closely, who you know it is the finest way that an adult can assist in building his own character better than he can," said Mr. Lynd. "The way that you do business and the ideals that you live by are in contact with one family in Detroit who are making plans to build in Birmingham in anticipation of the new service."

WE HEARD IT SAID BY—

H. T. Ellorby, village president: "What this world needs more than anything else, I believe, is for parents to get a correct view of their responsibility as to parental authority and responsibility, not only to the family and the church, but to the society as a whole. The child who is brought out in a grown person should have been stilled somewhere along the line during childhood. Our filling papers tell a big story of the failure of parental guidance."
