WE HEARD IT SAY BY—
William F. Packer, West-ern Newspaper Union, De-termines "Birmingham has taken on more of a metropolitan at-mosphere since Woodward avenue has been widened. When there were trees lining the sides of the street, it had a rustic appeal. Now with the addition of the new lights, that city air is still more emphasized."

THEATERS
WILSON
"Porgy" which the New York Theater Guild will bring for an engagement possibly limited to one week, beginning Sunday night, Feb. 2, at the Wilson Theater, direct from its years run and remodel as a home for art. Further authenticity is guaranteed by the fact that the Honey Maj of the play is also based on a real person, as is Porgy him-self and the Crab Man.

In a cast of revue proportions the principal include Frank Wilson in the title role; Rose MacClendon, Gertrude Harvey, Jack Carter, Evelyn Ellis, Wesley Hill, Percy Verwayne, Hayes Fryer, Stanley de Wolfe, Leigh Whipper, A. B. Comathiere, Elaine Sanford, Dorothy Paul, Richard Huey, Edward Hartford, Ella Madison, Lloyd Gray, Peter Clark, Marie Young, Melville Greene, G. Edward Brown, Garrett Minturn, residents of Catfish Row, fisherman, Stevedores, and Jenkins' Orphanage Band.

The play was staged by Rouben Mamoulian, a young Russian-Armenian who had been in America but two years. The settings of Catfish Row are authentic, being done by Clifton Throckmorton after a visit to Charleston, S. C., the locale of the play. The Row itself is called "Catfish" in Charleston it is referred to as Cabbage Row and a prominent New York critic recently purchased to old mansion house in which most of the action of "Porgy" takes place; intending to improve
