Villagers and Village

By THE WANDERER

A parallel between the point of view of many villagers, with regards to the ice, and that of Mrs. Kenney, the wife of the sea captain in Eugene O'Neill's "Ellie," as played by the Village Players Saturday night is seen with the consoling sister here. The abode of which the woman is a passenger is stranded on ice and the good wife becomes tragically balmy.

And still they come, the hordes of persons who enter the office of The Eccentric seeking a postage stamp. There have been few days since the removal of the post office to its new quarters that persons have not mistaken this building for the new office more than a block to our north.

Merry Christmas! A bit late! Okay says Mrs. Nellie H. Williams, 8207 Frank street, who received a Christmas package during the past week. "Valentine, over a month ago, is practically forgotten and even the bills have been paid," declared Mrs. Williams, "but I just received a package from Logan, Okla., which was paid for by Mrs. Williams. However, Mrs. Williams avers she has no complaint to make against the post office, because of the delay. She did not expect the package."

"Whoopes," as an expression merely enjoying a revival according to the files of The Eccentric. An item of fifty years ago reads: "What's the matter with the Holly Register? Whoopes? Jenkins wake up! send us a paper, or we'll think you've gone dead again." It's possible that villagers "made whoope" then too.

Birmingham is on skates. Five successive persons that the Wanderer met on Woodward avenue the other evening were humming tunes and hurrying along in the direction of Quarter Lake with skates tucked under their arms.

And speaking of ice. Veteran bus drivers report driving between Pontiac and Detroit the worst they have experienced in five years.

Birmingham businesses are going in for signs. Among the late the electric flash sign for the First State Savings Bank, and the new sign at the Thomas Market. A number of merchants have expressed their intention of purchasing new signs to herald their name before the public.

If sentiment is found favorable, the Grand Trunk railway is considering the installing of a Pullman here to connect with the train leaving Detroit at 10:45, west

Township; these contain east along the center line of section 25, north along the east and west township lines common to Avon, Troy and Bloomfield townships; east and west along the east and west township lines common to Troy and Bloomfield townships; east and west along the east and west township lines common to Troy and Bloomfield townships; east and west along the east and west township lines common to Troy and Bloomfield townships.
