Board Of Education Still Incongruent Of Dispute With Mt. Clemens Team

Unofficial word from the approximate vicinity of Birmingham's board of education suggests that Birmingham citizens who are interested in having the football game between Baldwin high school and Mt. Clemens high school cancelled through their arrangements make the district department of athletics.

This becomes apparent when parents of players of the team remained away from the board meeting Monday night, thus failing to comply with a former statement from the board that "formal complaint" be made at one of its meetings.

Just how the dispute between parents of several of the players and the school authorities will turn out is unknown in detail, although it is expected that Capt. Herman Schwartz and Donators, star backfield players, will not be in a game between their team and the Bath City gridlers this fall. It has also been hinted that other players will be kept out by their parents, unless some adjustment is made assuring that the scheduled game in October will be on a higher level of sportsmanship.

ACTION DELAYED ON GRAND TRUNK

Condemnation Proceedings Not Yet Started In Circuit Court

Trial of a new injunction action begun in Circuit Court in Wayne County Monday involving the condemnation of property required for relaying the Grand Trunk tracks has apparently delayed E. B. Howarth, Jr., of Royal Oak from starting condemnation proceedings against 7,000 lot owners in Bloomfield, Troy and Royal Oak townships.

Attempts to obtain statements from Mr. Howarth at his office this week regarding the date the suits will be filed have been met with the statement that he is busy on the case in Detroit.

The Detroit action involves the whole of Birmingham Gardens and a temporary injunction restraining work has been obtained by Nettie McEwen.

federal courts. Assistant Attorney General Kit F. Clardy asserts. The plaintiff's attorneys charge the act under which the condemnations are proposed is unconstitutional.

None of the suits against lot owners, which Howarth stated last week would be filed within a week, have yet been started in Circuit Court at Pontiac.

ENTRY DEADLINE SET FOR MONDAY

Entries on the horse shoe and tennis tournament being planned by Ernest Engel, village playground supervisor, will close Monday. Engel is receiving entries at his home, 540 Brown street.

It is planned to divide the contestants in the tennis matches into junior and senior classes. Prizes will be awarded to the winners in both classes and in the horse shoe contests at the close of the season. All games will be played at 6 p. m., he announced.

Mr. Engel pointed out the advantage of the new public tennis courts at the Barnum school. "There are now four public courts at Barnum which afford opportunity for playing off matches," he said.

Lou Saunders Heads Village Club Group

Lou Saunders, local automobile dealer, was made temporary chairman of a group of twelve local business and professional men last night when they met to discuss ways and means of forming a village club for Birmingham. The meeting took place in the municipal building.

Mr. Saunders was also elected chairman of a membership committee, while David Ladd, assisted by R. J. Coryell and E. H. Tillotson, will head a committee on finance. Ralph Wilson, aided by Dr. H. T. Tucker and H. T. Ellerby, will be in charge of a committee on purposes and activities.
