COURT DECIDES FOR STATE IN G. T. WORK

Resumption of Work Expected Following Verdict

TESTIMONY IS STUDIED

A decision in favor of the state over Frank Dohany and others who sought to restrain them from proceeding with operations for the new Grand Trunk railway is returned today in Federal court.

Opinion By Tuttle

In the majority opinion, written by Judge Tuttle, the right of the State to proceed under the Highway Act is upheld, and the temporary injunction dissolved, thus enabling the State to proceed with the acquisition of the remainder of the land needed for the right-of-way.

For Wider Woodward

The present right-of-way, when condemned by the railroad, will be used for the widening of Woodward avenue.

Suit was then started in the Federal court, the claim being set up that property was being taken without due process of law in violation of the Federal Constitution.

OLD STUDENTS FORGET YEARS AT REUNION

More Than 200 Assemble For Hill School Conclave

MAY BE FINAL CALL

Nearly 60 years slipped from the shoulders of the 300 grey-haired men and women when they gathered last Friday—“boys” and “girls” again to answer the call of the Hill school bell.

Old men were laughing boys, leaving the blushing school-girls of yesterday, as reminiscences and stories of the old school flew.

PRINCIPALS, SCENES IN BAFFLING VILLAGE SLAYING

That Walter Balko, Birmingham landscape gardener, shown above with his estranged wife, Marion, was fatally murdered in the "Lover's Lane" mystery today.

Possibility that this club, found near the scene of the murder, was the death instrument has been definitely discarded as a clue.

Balko's body was found lying alongside the famous "Lover's Lane" which winds behind the Birmingham Golf club by Bennett and Katherine Brown (above) and their brother, William. The post mortem reveals that Balko was shot through the mouth by a .32 calibre steel jacketed bullet.

Mrs. Marion Balko is shown above. She has been separated from Balko since early in May. They lived at 647 Henrietta street with her mother.
