Future Memories

The wish that every mother makes—is a wish as old as the world—“If only her little tots wouldn't grow up, but Old Father time has other plans. At this bright sunny season the children seem to grow inches every day. Soon they will be young men and women, but you will be left with photographs to recall to mind all these little sayings and pranks if you have portraits made frequently at the Arnold Studio in the Theater building. The pictures of them in their baby days will stretch yesterday into a lifetime. Just an hour or so some morning this week is all that is needed. Telephone 9015 will make the appointment right now.

Coaxing Appetites

Appetites often have to be coaxed on these warm days, but not if you're taking your meals at the Pure Food Restaurant on North Woodward. They anticipate your wishes with delicious hot weather salads, vegetables, fresh fruits prepared to tempt the most languid appetite. You'll just want to eat more and more, and you'll find that the heat won't be making you less energetic either. You get the foods that you need at this season at the Pure Food Restaurant, so make it your headquarters when meal times come around. And then in between times a cooling drink, or combination of fresh fruit and ice cream, that they know so well how to prepare, will be very refreshing.

Graduating Friends

Days of plodding and study over—the final rush of school activities, at last the night when the Baldwin Seniors receive their cherished diplomas—and then the satisfaction of friends expressed in appropriate gifts. And we all have friends among the graduates. Shain's Drug Store on West Maple have a line of gifts, just the things that any boy or girl could desire in toilet articles—cosmetics—perfumes—atomizers and perfume—kodaks—leather goods. Drop in and let them help you choose, and your graduate gift problem will be pleasantly solved.

Summer Freckles

Freckles—goodness! those little brown spots that insist upon dotting one's cheeks after exposure to the sunshine—but why worry with the Harper Method Shop in the Quarten Building at your service. You can go out in the sun to your heart's content without a thought about its effect upon your fair skin, and their expert operators will take care of any freckles with their Almond-Meal Pack. It's good for sunburn and tan too. You ought to see them now, and arrange for their hot weather facial treatments to safeguard your skin against hot weather facial treatments to safeguard your skin against summer exposure. Their number is 1015.

Surprises For You

The newest of the new you'll find at LaBelle's on West Maple. We saw mirrored flower pots—the outside made of small diamond shaped mirrors—And they could be used for vases for cut flowers as well as potted plants. Then in jewelry, the prettiest coral necklaces, to harmonize with dainty summer frocks. And Oh! a big surprise—pearls in the new sun tan shade. What more could the modern Miss desire? Still more new things—plaques at only 75c and pyrex bottles for hot or cold drinks, guaranteed to keep the temperature for two hours. They have them in sizes from small ones for two cups to a bottle large enough for eight cups. Just drop in to LaBelle's. Any day at all will have surprises for you.

Your Favorite Chair

Of course there's no use of crying over spilt milk as the old adage has it, but don't you feel like when that favorite chair of yours gets broken—the one that you called your own, that you used for reading and what not—but you don't have to have the broken pieces to the attic and forget about all the comfort you had, because Chas. M. Scott in the Field Building can repair it, reinforcing the weak points, and it'll be as good as new again. You can put it right back in your favorite corner and go on enjoying it. So call Mr. Scott's right now, and arrange to have him call for your favorite easy chair.

Music for Vacation

To keep the youngsters occupied during vacation time is the problem of many a mother, and how better could they be spending some of their leisure than in practicing on their favorite musical instrument. Grinnell's on south Woodward have just the saxophone, the flute, or the violin that your boy or girl has been wishing for, and the quality of Grinnell instruments is well known. A short time each day, and when vacation is over, you'll note remarkable progress. Bring your children to Grinnell's today, and arrange for their instrument. You can plan on easy payment terms.

and they'll be having the pleasure of its use and study all the while.

Window Shades Have It

It isn't only complexion that are turning to the sun tan tint right now—window shades at the C. J. Misener shop in the Field Building are being shown in all the light summer tints, principally variations of creams and tans. He has them in pastel tints too if you wish to match the interior decorations or furniture of your home. Housewives used to cling to the dark green shade, because of course they didn't wash well. But these new shades come out of the suds looking just like-new again. So you need have no fear. You can satisfy your heart's desire with light tinted window shades.

15 GRADUATE AT BIG BEAVER

Members of the Eighth Grade of Big Beaver School will receive their diplomas next Thursday, Superintendent C. T. Forsman announced today. The event will be informal. Mr. Forsman will give an informal talk, the topic of which has not been decided. He will present the diplomas to the 15 graduates.

Those who will receive diplomas are: Madeline Beaubien, Mildred Cornett, Harry Squire, Gordon Purrott, Sophia Rusin, Genevieve Mapes, Shirley Orr, Peter Howlett, Helen Ervasti, Genter Gregor, Gertrude Cinander, Mary Spanke, Ruth Buckner, Idanage King and Mildred Stumpf.

The eighth grade will also take an industrial trip to Detroit next Wednesday, visiting the Art Museum, Public Library, the Detroit News plant, and Water Works Park. Nyle Jessup and Mr. Forsman will accompany them.

In fairness to those who are dependent on you — tomorrow may be too late!
