Crashing for the fifth time in three years, Lieut. E. E. Calder of Calcutta escaped injury, but his airplane was wrecked.

From time immemorial a boy's pockets have been the receptacles for an endless variety of odds and ends, but it was left for Freddy Brown, 12 of Memphis, to add a safety razor blade to such a collection, carried in his hip pocket. He sat down, arose again, had several stitches taken, and will eat his meals standing for the time being.

A nation-wide campaign is being made to raise $500,000 to make Robert E. Lee's birthplace in Virginia a national shrine.

Mrs. Elsie Ryan of Dublin requested in her will that none of her relatives be admitted to her funeral.

When Mrs. Emmeline Morris of Glasgow returned from a shopping trip she found a tramp sleeping in her bed.
