appreciation of art when they view "Spring Song," or "The Lone Wolf." See instead, it may be an old family portrait that brings back memories and provides the inspiration. But whatever it is—if you have some of your favorite pictures or portraits sandwiched away in some drawer, for goodness sake have them framed so you can have the joy of seeing them in your home. Mr. Miesner has a remarkable variety of frames in natural wood and polychrome, and he can select just the right type of frame to bring out the tones and harmonize with the theme of your picture. Leave it all to him, just bring in your favorite pictures and portraits.

The warm days are coming when the tan coats will be in vogue. But you'll just be glad if you have a pep at the jewelry at the Gift and Art Shop at 49 West Maple Avenue. We saw such pretty chokers, sets of bracelet, and necklaces, with synthetic and genuine stones in all the favorite colors, sport jewelry just the type to express the individuality of the athletic woman. You'll just be wishing for the warm summer days right now, so you can walk out with your perfect ensemble, costume and jewelry harmonizing just right, giving you that well-dressed look. Stop in at the Gift and Art Shop and make your selections to match with your riotous ensembles, and you'll be set.

Practicing the music lesson won't be difficult for small son or daughter if they have an instrument from Grinnell's at 144 South Woodward. And with vacation time close at hand, they'll have additional time. Parents just must not overlook the musical talent of their children, and they all have it for some instrument. The pleasure it will mean for others and the joy during their leisure moments all through their life will overshadow the small cost of the instrument, and the expenditure for lessons. Bring your son here, for his saxophone—flute,—your daughter for her piano.—The tone quality of Grinnell instruments will please you. Easy payment terms can be arranged, and when you're getting the best quality you're buying the best.

Pictures—like hobbies are something like hobbies—we all have our favorites. C. L. Miesner who does picture framing in the Field Building has found this out. Some folks have that awakening feeling to an the season's favorite complexion will find mighty handy. And aren't you glad that you don't have to tan and burn in the hot sunshine to attain the sunburned healthy tint? This cream gives you that complexion and at the same time protects your skin from the sun. Just head for Shain's, get your sunburned complexion, and fall in line with the smart women of 1929.

It's time for the baby's photographs, these warm summer days and Arnold's Studio in the Theater Building is the place to have them taken. "I can't afford to have portraits made," so often we hear that expression, but you're trading memories for money if you don't. The things we feel we can't afford are so often the very ones we simply must not neglect. The price we pay for photographs is modest, indeed, in comparison to the price we pay for postponement. Just phone 303 right now, and get your little folks in line for their portraits.

Joys of a Permanent
Oh! for the joys of a fresh breeze, wafted over the ripples of a lake,—the very breath of spring itself. And you'll just enjoy letting it blow through your hair if you have a permanent from the Harper Method Shop in the Quaron Building. No worries about losing your marcel from the wind or dampness—you'll be equipped to enjoy summer to the fullest extent. And here's something the operators in the Harper Method said, "Women undervalue treatments before having their permanents. The condition of your hair before decides the success of your permanent." So just phone 1016 and let them tell you exactly what your own hair needs, and then set your date for summer comfort with a permanent.

How this invigorating spring air does effect one's appetite. Why half the folks we see have that lean and hungry look long before luncheon and dinner time—but they don't have to feel the pangs of hunger with the Pure Food Restaurant at 116 North Woodward waiting to serve them. You get real man-size meals there too, such delectable steaks and chops, delicious salads, and pastry that seems to have come from your own Mother's kitchen. You'll want to live to eat, instead of eating to live if you have your meals at the Pure Food Restaurant. And don't wait until meal time—stop in during the morning and afternoon for a sandwich—no need of being hungry with all the delicious food they have waiting for you.

Music—On the Air
"Music, the only art of heaven given to earth, the only art of earth we take to heaven."—And folks traveling in the vicinity of the Radio Center at 125 East Maple get a taste of that music anytime during the day. You'll find one of their radios bringing you favorite classical and popular numbers throughout the day and evening. One day there'll be a Temple Radio just outside the door, another day an Edison, all with such wonderful tone quality, and selectivity, that you'll find it difficult to decide on the model of your choice for your home. The Brunswick, Zenith and Atwater Kent also at the Radio Center will make your selection even more difficult. A phone call will bring a radio for a demonstration in your home. And they offer radio service too, so phone 1620 if you have a set not up to par.
