BIRMINGHAM'S BOY SCOUTS WILL IMPROVE CAMP GEORGE

Members of the four Boy Scout troops included in the district in and around Birmingham are planning to make of their recently donated Camp George, one of the most attractive Boy Scout Camps in the country. And their plans will not wait until the more pleasant weather of spring and summer. They have already begun improvements on their 600-acre work-and-playground.

Under the supervision of Lloyd L. Stanley, district supervisor, all the scouts will take part in the campaign to improve the excellent site they have been given through the generosity of Col. Edwin S. George. The camp was named after the donor during a recent hike to the estate made by star scouts and scout leaders.

For sleeping accommodations in the main lodge, 25 cots and mattresses have been obtained. Cooking utensils and other equipment also have been added to the camp. Parts of the main lodge and of another building which will be used as a bunk house, were found in a state of disrepair. Vagrants evidently had torn down doors for kindling wood and the erred me with the robe of righteousness" (Isa. 61:10).

The Lesson Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Soul and Body with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Sooner or later we shall learn that the fetters of man's finite capacity are forged by the illusion that he lives in body instead of in Soul, in matter instead of in Spirit" (p. 223).

A WISH

WHEN you sit down to your Thanksgiving dinner, it is our wish that you may find that you have many good reasons for feeling thankful. After all, if we are blest with good health in mind and body, isn't that enough to make us feel that we have had more than an even break—for which we should have a sense of gratitude?

Should we not all be willing to say? "Give me a body that is fit, and healthy to the core—a mind possessed of average wit, and I'll not ask for more!"

Also, it is our wish, that in your dealings with you, you feel that we have given you your money's worth—that you have found us fair-minded when you felt that you have had cause for complaint—also, that we seemed just as anxious to serve you, whether you bought a quart of milk or fifty T-bone steaks.

If it should be that you feel this way about us—it means that we have earned your faith. Having that, we have a merchant's most precious business possession. If we have not earned it—it is our fault—because you have given us a rich opportunity to prove whether we do deserve it. That opportunity has been your patronage—for which we thank you, sincerely.
