J. H. McBRIDE
 150-154 South Woodward. Retail Hardware.

How long have you been in this type of business?
 I have been in the hardware business since 1904. I opened my store in Birmingham in 1915.

What led you to choose Birmingham as the location for your store?
 Often traveling through Birmingham to Pontiac where I had a hardware store, the community attracted me as a desirable residential village. This appeal, coupled with the fact that I found an opportunity for a hardware store here led me to come to Birmingham.

What do you think of Birmingham's business future?
 As I see it, the future of the village is unlimited because of the close proximity to Detroit as well as the natural beauty and environs surrounding Birmingham.

What do you consider Birmingham's greatest need?
 Birmingham's greatest need right now is a proper sewage disposal plant, built for enlargement as the village grows.

Are you desirous of keeping the village of a residential nature?
 There are two sides to that question, from the standpoint of the merchant. A residential community is the more desirable if the people can be induced to do their buying at home. The residential type of community is composed of the more prosperous class who oftentimes are more able to travel outside to do their purchasing, and do so. The working class have less money to spend but because of the convenience of the nearby stores they spend at home. The residential community of course is the more desirable if we can keep trade at home.

What factors will encourage more buying in the village?
 Up-to-date stores and attractive shopping inducements are the only thing.

In what way can the merchants make the village a better shopping area?
 Just by keeping alert to the opportunities of expansion and

The love of God is the one thing which man both possesses and owns." Rev. LeRoy Lord, pastor of the Clawsan Methodist Church, stated in a talk last Friday before the Gyrophytes. He cited land, business and material things as the things which man owns, distinguishing them from man's possessions such as beauty, intelligence and friendship.

development in the village business as the village grows.

What growth do you expect of Birmingham during the next five years?
 I expect the population to double in five years.

Have you any "pet" idea you would like to see manifested in the village?
 I would like to see arrangements made to develop all the land we have suitable for parks, if this is not taken care of now as the population grows these desirable sites are going to be lost to the general public.
