SCOUTS REQUEST FURNISHINGS

A request for old furniture, dishes and other household articles is made by Birmingham boy scouts today who wish to furnish their new cabin on the Col. Edwin S. George estate, Bloomfield Hills. The boys are rapidly getting the cabin into condition but are in need of furnishings, they say. Scout Commissioner Lloyd L. Stanley is receiving the donations at his home, 435 Madison avenue.

ARE YOU ONE OF THE NINE

Nine out of ten persons suffer to some extent with dehydrated elimination or constipation. The passage of waste matter from the system is entirely too slow. Germs breed in this waste and enter the blood through the blood vessels in the intestinal walls. These poisons are very harmful, causing headaches, dizziness, rheumatism, piles, indigestion, high blood pressure and other ailments. The correct treatment for these ailments is bringing about proper and healthful elimination.

Mul-So-Lax, the new scientific preparation that is used in Hospitals and endorsed by the medical profession cleanses and lubricates the entire intestinal system, ending constipation and bringing about natural relief from such diseases as rheumatism, indigestion, piles, colitis, gas and sour stomach, chronic constipation, chronic appendicitis and all disorders. MANY CAUSES OF 'WINTER KILLING' OF LAWNS FOUND BY GARDENER

By G. J. RALEIGH

To many persons the term "winter injury" brings vague picture of plants becoming so cold that they are no longer able to live. This popular idea is not at all adequate for there are many other factors than low temperatures that are responsible for the trouble commonly known as winter killing.

One of the most common and annoying forms of winter injury is that of the lawn. The percentage of winter killing in lawns is high. This fact has long been recognized by home owners and they have tried various methods of combating the trouble. In years past, we left the lawn grass grow in the fall, and we even placed manure or straw over the lawn in the hope of protecting the grass. Both practices are rapidly being abandoned for neither accomplished the purpose and both made the lawn an unsightly place for a long period of the year.

It is now thought that winter injury to grass has two aspects. One regards the actual destruction of the cells of the grass roots on account of the withdrawal of water from the cells due to the formation of ice in the plant tissues. The other aspect is concerned with the heaving of the soil with consequent partial uprooting of the grass plant. Undoubtedly a combination of these two causal agents is responsible for most of the annual damage done to the lawns of the country.

Sturdiness of plant is recognized as the big factor in determining resistance to winter injury. A plant that has made a good growth throughout the growing season, and has established a strong root system has vastly increased chances of coming through a hard winter with minimum loss. This is due not only to the inherent life of the plant, but equally to the fact that heavy due to freezing and thawing is negligible when the turf is heavy and the root system deep and extensive.

Adequate drainage, good physical condition of soil, systematic soaking of the lawn are recognized features in good lawn management, but are in themselves inadequate. On most of our lawns a feeding program is absolutely essential to sturdy grass growth. Complete plant food should be applied at intervals throughout the growing season. Spring feeding alone is not sufficient.

for those beginning the course and one at the same hour Tuesday for those who have previously carried on the work under Mrs. Shain. This marks the third year she has given the course which was inaugurated as a joint project of the American Association of University Women and the Community House.

Mrs. J. N. Hadjisky, formerly of York, England, will discuss the British labor movement at the meeting to be held next Tuesday by the advanced group which numbers approximately 16 persons.

Among those registered in the Monday group are: Mrs. Stowe D. Baldwin, Mrs. C. M. Bloodgood, Mrs. J. F. Boothby, Mrs. Cecil F. Charlton, Mrs. William T. Cushing, Mrs. Harold S. Gray, Mrs. Arthur Hartwell, Sr., Mrs. Arthur Hartwell, Jr., Mrs. J. S. Lawson, Mrs. W. J. Norton, Mrs. John A. Ormand, Mrs. Raymond Reilly, Mrs. Y. C. Smith, Mrs. Louis Buthenbourg, Mrs. L. M.
