Do Your Feet Pain?

Dr. Scholl's Foot Expert Will Be Here
FRIDAY, APRIL 4th

See Him About Your Feet—No Charge

Your foot trouble may be the result of one or more of a dozen different causes. Only an expert analysis of your feet will tell.

To give you the benefit of the highest skill obtainable, we have arranged with Dr. Wm. M. Scholl, internationally famous Foot Authority, to have an Expert of his staff at our store on the above date.

He will make a scientific analysis of your feet; develop prints which reveal the exact nature of your ailment, and show you what you need to get quick and permanent relief.

All this without cost to you or obligation to buy anything.

Remember the date and be sure to come!

SUIT BEGINS MAY 6 ON ALLEY OPENING

Hearing on a condemnation suit to open an alley from Henrietta street to Pierce street, between the several blocks of the Community House where babies were rudely awakened Tuesday noon. (This newspaper prints the truth.)

Demosthenes, ancient Greek orator, undoubtedly turned green with envy as his kindly spirit listened in on the next April Fool's Day stunt on this program. It was the result of three scheduled minute speeches, all given at the same time, by three Exchangeites. This was made possible for the first time by the presence of Dr. Fred L. Tucker, Walter M. Pratt, and Robert R. Allen, to assert themselves for what was called, less than five minutes.

Dr. Tucker selected as his topic, "The Rise and Fall of Putty in Peru"; he gave a masterful presentation of the subject, although it was generally admitted by those who heard his howling that he neglected to keep the wind out of his gesticulations and arguments, thus somewhat disqualifying him for clearness of presentation of the subject, although the speaker was finally pushed down into his chair. (No lying here, you see.)

Mr. Pratt chose "Golf" as his topic, while Mr. Allen, an ardent baseball fan, determined upon that sport as his subject. Both these speakers heard it nip and tuck, but Mr. Allen, in making the Peruvian thunder, yet occasionally heard such words as "Golf is a great game," "the line-up for today is . . . fore, fore, . . .", "lying in the bunker . . . putty is used for . . .", "hey, caddy, where'd . . .", "rice bating . . .", "I'm not a golfer," "my, my, my, grandmother died an . . .", "sure, I'm countin' every stroke . . .", "South America is full of . . .".

Mr. Ellerby, in awarding the handsome and impractical ten-cent prize to Pratt and Allen, stated "I do so simply because in this oratorical contest neither of you could be understood." Making all in all, the program was a tremendous success. Livers were taken the place of frowns; and April Fool's Day filled the bill. (Soberly said, it is rumormongered that the Exchangeites are planning a big blowout for the Fourth of July, but it is rumormongered, so may invite the ladies.)

not demand a value that is exact, to the last dollar, or to the last 50 or 100 dollars. The approximate value, or a fair estimate, is enough for the purposes of the census—and that I believe every man, if not every woman, ought to be able to give. The man knows about what the home he owns is worth—about what he would expect to get for it if he sold it; and he need not hesitate to tell, or let his wife tell, the census taker, who is forbidden by law to give out this information to the tax assessor, the neighbors, or anybody else. It is the same with the other information. The individual census returns are kept absolutely secret, even from officials of other departments of the Federal Government. When a man tells the value of his home, the enumerator is under oath not to reveal it; and is subject to legal penalties if he violates this provision. The information reported on the individual census schedules goes into a machine with thousands of other figures and comes out as statistics.

It is most desirable that women inform themselves as thoroughly as possible about the coming census, and husbands who gain such information in the course of their reading or business should "tell the wife about it."

It should be remembered that the selection of the questions in the result of much study on the part of officials of the Department of the Census and Statistics at the Bureau of the Census, and experienced individuals in the field of census work. Out of the scores of questions that various organizations and individuals wanted to have included, those which remain are the result of a long boiling-down process, and strong reasons have been necessary to support any question that was placed on the list.

A few outstanding changes have been made in the census to be asked in the 1930 population census, but in general the information to be collected from one census to the next must be the same if figures for different decades are to be compared.

That census figures must be accurate before they are valuable goes without saying. Not only must they be accurate, but the public must be convinced that the figures are accurate. It is another instance in which Caesar will not be able to do it alone. Manufacturing establishments looking for local markets for their goods, statistics about which there is no suspicion. If the aim of the Census is to be achieved, the jealousies or rivalries must play no part in the census-taking.

Lack of wholehearted cooperation between the census officials and any individual community may cause delay or confusion in taking the census for that community, and delay or confusion may in turn cause doubts as to the accuracy of the results. For this reason the Census Bureau is instructing its officials to seek to obtain the cooperation of local chambers of commerce, boards of trade, community associations, and other organizations in carrying out their work. If the superiors receive aid of the local business and professional community, the census will go off smoothly and expeditiously.

The census of newspapers and organizations is not enough. What is even more important than these is the cooperation of the community itself will be the greatest beneficiary.

The purpose which the Census Bureau will come in contact with the people to be enumerated will be on the front-door step of the morning in April. If the woman in the home and the census enumerator meet in a spirit of wholehearted cooperation, the success of the 1930 census will be assured.

Questions

These are the questions that will be asked about each person by a Federal census-taker some time during the month of April:

1. Your name.
2. Your relationship to the family (whether the head of family, wife, son, daughter, or uncle, etc.).
3. Whether your home is owned or rented.
4. The estimated value of your home, if owned, or the monthly rental, if rented.
5. Is there a radio set in your home?
6. Do you live on a farm?
7. What is your sex?
8. What is your color or race?
9. What was your age at last birthday?
10. Are you married, single, widowed, or divorced?
11. What was your age at first marriage? (For married persons only.)
12. Have you attended school or college any time since Sept. 1, 1927?
13. Are you able to read and write?
14. Where were you born?
15. Where was your father born?
16. Where was your mother born?
17. What is your native language? (For foreign-born persons only.)
18. In what year did you immigrate to the U. S. (For foreign-born.)
19. Are you naturalized? (For foreign-born.)
20. Are you able to speak English?
21. If you are a gainful worker, what is your occupation?
22. In what industry are you employed?
23. Are you an employer, employee, or working on your own?
24. Were you actually at work yesterday?
25. Are you a veteran of the United States military or naval forces, and if so, in what war or expedition did you serve?

If you answered "No" to question 24, you will also be asked whether you have a job and are merely temporarily out of work or whether you have no job at all. If you have a job, you will be asked:

1. How many weeks since you have worked on your present job?
2. How many weeks have you not worked yesterday (or on the last regular working day)?
3. How many days did you work last week?
4. How many days in a full-time week?
5. How many days at a part-time week?
6. If you have no job at all, you will be asked:
1. Are you able to work?
2. Are you looking for a job?
3. For how many weeks have you been without a job?
4. Reason for being out of a job, or for losing your last job.
