

SOCIETY IN BLOOMFIELD HILLS AND THE HILLS

MRS. DAVIS NEXT A. A. U. W. SPEAKER

Others Also Chosen To Address Group At Meeting On Monday

Speakers at the next meeting of the Pre-Adolescent Child study group of the A. A. U. W. on Monday will be Mrs. Charles Davis, of Wing Lake, Mrs. William Essery, and Mrs. Edward L. Bryant, of the Children's Aid Society and a member of the board of the Birmingham School of Childhood, has been secured to speak at the April 14 meeting.

A talk was given last Monday before the group by Mrs. Fred D. Farrar, on "Acquired and Inherited Mechanisms." Nearly every instinct, she said, has its purpose the formation of a habit, and the purpose of habits is to make life run more smoothly. "The formation of good habits during the pre-adolescent period is of the utmost importance," Mrs. Farrar continued. "For example, children are naturally gregarious. If this instinct is socialized, it will become an invaluable habit. I feel that the Community House, with the wonderful opportunities it presents to children for organized play under fine leadership, will prove an invaluable factor in their right development."

Mrs. Farrar spoke Tuesday in Flint to the A. A. U. W. on "Nursery Schools." Following Mrs. Farrar on the program here Monday, Mrs. Emil Keller, of Quanton road, read a paper on "The Law of Social Formation." These meetings take place every Monday morning at 9:45 in the Community House.

AUDIENCE HEARS VIVID STORY OF FINLAND'S FREEDOM FIGHT

Before an enthusiastic audience that manifested a sympathetic interest in the struggle of Finland, Baroness Ramsey talked Tuesday evening in the auditorium of the Community House.

In halting English, but in tones suffused with ardor and patriotism, the former Red Cross nurse related how the people of Finland suffered and fought for freedom in the seemingly impossible battle against the Soviets and the bitter cold, and how freedom was at last won May 16, 1918. Her part in the revolution, during which she gained the title of the Joan of Arc of Finland, was also modestly told.

Before launching into the story of the revolution, however, she described her country, and with the aid of moving pictures, she told the audience a new knowledge of the topography, the appearance, the history, and the industries of her fatherland, called, in its own dialect, Suomi. The large crowd present greeted with special enthusiasm the picture of a large railway station in Helsinki, designed by Eliel Saarinen. The fact that Finland is a leader in new experiments in government, having granted equal civil rights to women in 1907, and that it has the lowest literacy rate of any country in the world were imparted to the audience.

Baroness Ramsey closed her talk with a description of her home for crippled veterans and children of veterans, called "Pro Patria." An explanation of the work carried on there was made especially vivid by pictures of the house, the interior, and the inmates at work and play.

Mrs. George T. Hendrie acted as master of ceremonies, and in

BLOOMFIELD TEAM WINS HORSE SHOW

Gains Decisive Victory Over Grand Rapids And Detroit

Consistent accuracy over an unfamiliar course and a determined effort for the Bloomfield Open Hunt Club riders over the Grand Rapids and Detroit teams Tuesday night at the indoor show of the Detroit Riding and Hunt Club.

With only 3 1/2 faults compared with the 16 for Detroit and 30 1/2 for Grand Rapids, the Bloomfield riders, Miss Margaret-Pepper, Standard, Mr. Hackler, Miss Viola Hammond on Checkers, and Miss Dee Furey Mott on Hercules, won a decisive victory.

In the night show Detroit's horse of first place was lost when True of the 104th rode a bad jump, suffering six faults in knockdowns on the last two hurdles. In the afternoon show, Grand Rapids suffered four faults, while Detroit had 1 1/2 faults and Grand Rapids, 16, almost a duplication of the scores of the first meeting of the three teams the week before.

Results in the other afternoon events were as follows:

Division A, A. A. U. W. riding competition: First, Charles Pierce Jr., on Lord Brampton; second, Patricia Flynn on Akalania; third, Miss Jane Pierce on No Trump.

Division B, of juniors' riding class: First, Jan Chamberlain on Sonny Boy; second, Frederic Gagner on Diana; third, Rosa Pierce on Birch Bark.

Young people's saddle class: First, C. T. Fisher's King; second, L. P. Fisher's Happy Flash; third, Mrs. F. J. Maury's Duke.

The Pierce team, Charles D. Pierce, Sr., and son Ross, won the grandchild class. Mrs. R. E. Floyd and son Robert taking second. Mrs. Dee Furey Mott and daughter Denise, third, and P. E. Johnson and daughter Barbara finishing fourth.

Junior Gagner rode L. K. Bullen's Greyhound to a red ribbon in the lightweight hunter class, finishing behind Fort Gibson, which also took the gold ribbon in this event with Master B. F. Stephenson's Hi Hat.

Judging Cows.

In the saddle horse class, which offered the closest contention of all the show, the declared winners, the Meadowbrook Farm, a blue ribbon winner, Charles T. Fisher King, placed second and Mrs. Charles Thell was third with Teavine Dore.

The Fisher stable had another winner in the evening show when Miss Diciania topped the five-gaited saddle horse. Second in this class was Mrs. Thell's Cloud King, and third was Lady Divine, owned by the Meadowbrook Farm.

In the Touch-and-Out class, No Trump, from the Pierce stable was first. C. H. L. Flintnerman was second with Shrapnel, and W. F. Connolly was third with Grant-ham.

MRS. DON DARON FETES GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Don Daron, of Yorkshire road, entertained in their home last evening at a formal dinner and bridge for 10 guests.

ROSE TALK HEARD BY GARDEN CLUB

Bloomfield Group Is Addressed By President Of Rose Society

A history of roses and suggestions on successful rose growing were given to an interested audience of 150 members of the Bloomfield Hills unit of the National Farm and Garden club by Dr. J. Horace McFarland, president of the American Rose society and one of America's leading living rosarians.

Beautiful roses were grown at least as early as 600 A. D., Dr. McFarland said, and probably before that. An explanation of the different kinds of roses, accompanied by slides of rose gardens, was next made by the speaker. Pictures of the newest species of roses were shown by Dr. McFarland, who advised his audience on the virtues and defects of the various kinds.

Dr. McFarland proceeded to discuss club members of wide interest. He pointed out the proper planting and growing of roses. He claimed that he had never seen a rose bush with roots more than 18 inches in length; and that beautiful plants are frequently grown in pot shade. With hit on rose care, he closed his talk.

The speaker was introduced by Dr. Samuel S. Marquis, rector of Christ Church. The lecture was attended by Mrs. John McKinney, of Lithia, Mich., Michigan president of the club. Previous to the meeting, eight members of the board and the program committee met with Dr. McFarland at the Bloomfield Hills Country club for a suburban luncheon.

Dr. McFarland spoke Monday evening and Tuesday in the Women's City Club Garden Institute on "Adventures in Rose Growing."

COMPARES LIFE TO SKYSCRAPER

Hamtramck Educator Speaks At DeMolay, Mother And Son Banquet

An inspiring talk, in which skyscraper building was compared to character-building, was given Tuesday evening by Philip Lovejoy, assistant principal of Hamtramck High School, at the Fifth Annual DeMolay Mother and Son banquet.

"There is an important lesson in the skyscraper for each of us who would build a skyscraper life," said Mr. Lovejoy. "There are many magnificent skyscrapers, with a certain impression of the city—they indicate the type of city. For more important, are the buildings are skyscraper people." With these words as an introduction, Mr. Lovejoy outlined the 14 points on which skyscrapers and character are comparable.

The Detroit Police quartette furnished entertainment for the 80 people present. The Quartette was secured for this banquet by Chief Ora J. Tuttle. The program follows: Welcome by Master Councillor, William Shelton; toast to mother, William Lantry; response, by Mrs. M. G. Ewer; presentation of the Past Master Councillor's jewel to Clarence McMullen by B. J. Melrow. Richard Fleming was toastmaster.

ASIATIC ART CURATOR BELIEVES CHINESE WORKS MOST IMPORTANT

The belief that Chinese art is the most important art in the world was expressed by Dr. Benjamin Marsh, Asiatic Curator of the Detroit Institute of Arts, in a talk to members of the Women's literary club, Tuesday in the lecture room of the Institute.

In supporting his contention, Dr. Marsh emphasized the vitality of the Chinese art. "It has endured for 3,000 years," he said, "and although there have been many foreign invasions in that period, and many changes in government, it has felt no distinct influences or no other art in the world can be said to have been so long-lived. Every nation that has overrun China, instead of impressing its civilization on China, has become absorbed by it. The Mongolians, for example, a few centuries ago, were an invasion, but they have been absorbed by the Chinese, and the Chinese themselves."

The spiritual aspect of Chinese art also makes it predominant in the world, Dr. Marsh said. The Chinese artist does not merely

PROF. J. L. BRUMM IS NEXT SPEAKER

U. Of M. Journalism Class Head Lists On A. A. U. W. Program, Apr. 9

Prof. John L. Brumm, of the University of Michigan, will be the featured guest at the next regular monthly meeting of the Birmingham Association of University Women, to be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. in the Community House.
