NEW WAISTLINE BRINGS PETTICOATS

Left, silk crepe petticoat and step-in with fitted waist and hips; center, flat crepe frock in new rust tone; right, shell crepe lounging pajamas.

By LUCY CLAIRE
Fashion Writer for Costume Press
FITTED LINES for undies have come back to such an extent that we may expect to return to corset covers at any moment. The normal waistline has brought back the petticoat. Women have found that it's petticoat is really a necessity or the new frocks with their fitted waistlines and gathered round the waist, left to hang in a straight, full lines, affair flared like the skirt itself. A version of the new petticoats is shown at the left of the sketch. It is fitted at the waist and over the hips, and fastened with buttons or snappers at the side for smoothness. The step-in combination also has its fitted waistline with panties flaring just below the hips that there may be no unnecessary wrinkles under the fitted silhouette of the frocks they are wearing. Both petticoat and combination are of soft silk crepe, the combination trimmed with an off-white or ecru lace.

Frock Requires Fitted Undies
The type of frock that requires these fitted undies is shown at the center. The material is flat crepe the color one of the new rust tones with a rosy cast, that is coming in for fall. Note the easily molded waist and hiplines, and the clever treatment of the sleeves, with slight fullness dropping to a tight cuff. A scarf collar that may be worn in various ways is also featured.

Brown kid shoes and a matching brown felt hat accompany the frock. The new rust tones may be worn with either black or brown accessories. At the right is shown a suit of lounging pajamas, about the only bit of lingerie that does not mold the figure in midday's wardrobe these days. These are lovely and frivolous in shell pink crepe trimmed with ivory net applied with coin dots of the crepe in graduated sizes. A jacket of the pink crepe goes with this suit. It is just a plain little jacket, very like the girls wear with their sports suits. Note the yoke of the net at waist and neckline. These would be easy to make by using any good two-piece pajama pattern.
