

MRS. FISHER DIES IN WEST

Funeral Tomorrow For Village Prominent in War Relief Work

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. at the Fred E. Fisher home, 211 Aspen road, for Mrs. Fisher, Sr., who died Saturday evening at the Hospital in Los Angeles, Calif. Burial will be in Greenwood cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Fisher had been in Los Angeles for several months, residing at the Lake View Hotel at West Lake Park. Death came after several weeks' illness as a result of a throat infection.

Mrs. Fisher, who was 50 years old, was born in Memphis, Mich., and resided in Detroit before she and her husband and son came to make their home in Birmingham 15 years ago. Until two years ago, they lived on North Woodland avenue. During the war, Mrs. Fisher was prominent in relief work, her headquarters being at Newberry House, Detroit.

Survivors include her husband, her son, Fred E., Jr., a sister, Mrs. M. S. Smoling, of Birmingham, Ill., and a brother, George Schrader, of Arkansas.

COST OF CHLORIDING STREETS CUT IN HALF

Chloriding the streets of Birmingham will cost the Village only one-half of the total cost for last year, according to James W. Parris, Village manager. In 1929 Parris' Village manager. In 1929 whether or not the residents wish it, but this year only those house-owners who petitioned the Village for chloriding their streets received the service.

Above you may witness Mrs. Lawfette, during those courtship days, as she was about to start out one Sunday afternoon to cycle with "Lem." She had on an older brother's straw hat, and her beautiful hair was not bobbed, and hung over her ears. She wore a gold watch upon her shirt-waist, so that she could tell the time. As you may notice from the picture, she is joined for flight—"Clem" always had been a go-getter.

there today. When Main Street was widened the original pavement was covered over.

If our roads are breaking up from too heavy loads this fall should be rectified, and we should know what is the actual cause to a certainty. Roads that are breaking up should be test bored and the borings analyzed. The tax payers are entitled to a thorough investigation of roads to guard against unnecessary expense in the future.

How Roads Are Let
Referring to the manner in which new roads are determined, the following letter goes on: "After a road is properly petitioned for and passed by the County Board of Supervisors, the Road Commission does not have to build the road unless they see fit to do so, or in other words, the law does not compel it."

"On April 30, 1928, bids were received for the road which is the Fourteen Mile Road running east from Woodward to the lowest bid was: R. D. Baker Company $335,898.75; McCreedy & McVaux, 311,139.80. Job let above low bid, $24,758.95. The resolution was passed by the Board Commission and signed by Luther D. Allen: the bid of R. D. Baker Company in the sum of $335,898.75, as the lowest and same to be accepted by R. D. Baker Company, and that all other bids be rejected."

In 1929, the Road Commission also spent over thirty-five thousand dollars on the Road Repair and Fund on the Davishury Park and Golf Links. This money was spent with authorization. Springsteen then criticizes the cost of conducting the personnel and offers a claim that M. Allen has been paid more in salary and expense than is legal. A total of $10,980.00 is the amount claimed by Mr. Springsteen. Mr. Allen was overpaid in six years. Up to a late hour of the night Mr. Allen was unable to be reached by the Eccentric. Undoubtedly, however, Mr. Allen will make a reply to the Springsteen document for publication later.

Community Changes Are Made

The community in which the conditions are insured. Because the condition became more precarious in the village in grass fires in the communities outside of the village, the Village Commission, through the fire insurance committee, notified the townships that unless a more equitable financial arrangement be made between the townships and the village, fire protection would be refused to the village. The Village proposed to increase the assessment of the department and add another fire outside of the village. This proposal and part of the salaries for the additional men were to be paid for by the townships.

Bloomfield Townships had expressed willingness to enter into any fair contract with the village to do away with the hazard and to insure adequate fire protection. Troy township representative, Garner Miller, reports that certain sections of the township receive fire protection from the village and Clawson. Southfield Township, represented by George Birmingham, reports that similar conditions existed in Southfield and that it was uncertain whether the present assessment districts could be established to pay for the extra fire protection service.

Fire Registration Changes Are Made

Few more than the 4,500 voters who registered at the presidential election in 1928 have been enrolled in Bloomfield Township but frequent transfers are being made and application blanks for absent voters are now being circulated. James V. Bayley, township clerk, announced yesterday.

Persons expecting to be absent on Sept. 9, the date of the primary election, are requested to communicate with Mr. Bayley if they wish to apply for absent voters' registration for the primary election close next Saturday, Aug. 30.

REPORT ON BARNUM POOL MADE; PLANS FOR SCHOOL ANNOUNCED

An average of 1,400 to 1,500 persons attended swimming classes each week in the Barnum swimming pool during the term it was open from July 1 to Aug. 22, it is reported by Ernest Engel, director of the pool. Two hundred and eighty-five boys and girls were enrolled in the life saving classes. Mr. Engel, assistant instructor in the boys' and girls' instruction was Hartwell Ladd who passed the life saver's instruction in the summer. Mrs. Engel, Mrs. Ora Richards and Mrs. Alice Berndt had charge of the girls' and women's classes.

Plan for the school year are now being made and the pool is expected to re-open Sept. 2. There will be three junior high school classes, a senior high class, and four Saturday classes. The coming year will wind-up with a championship tournament in which the Southeastern league and schools will participate.

It is possible that there will be public night classes and according to the program, the Girl Scouts, the Boy Scouts and the Y. M. C. will have regular classes in the pool.

Barnum pool officials are pleased with the showing so far. Over 200 persons, many of whom could not swim a stroke, are now qualified swimmers. Those who have completed requirements or life saving badges are Bertha Lubeck, Virginia Thomas, Ruth Pratt, and Jean Brooks in the senior girls' class; and Mary Jane Weitzel in the junior girls' group. In the senior boys' and men's classes the following persons have passed the tests: Leonard McClure, John Roger, William Bonavia, William Merz, Russell French, Daniel Robertson, Reid Scott, William Speer, and Merrick Black. In the junior men's class are William Guckler, Dean Smith, Kenneth W. Williams, Cruickshank Robert, Diserens, Jack Patton, William Galt, Broox Barr, and Joe Steffe.

County Equalization Was Not Made By Supervisors, Deputy Atty.-Gen. Says

In an opinion handed down by the Attorney General's Department at Lansing last week, no legal equalization of Oakland County was effectuated at the June session of the Board of Supervisors and the vote of 22 to 1 was inadequate, according to C. Orr, Oakland County Prosecuting attorney, has announced.

The opinion of Deputy Attorney General Emerson R. Boyles of Lansing, concurs with that of Mr. Orr and makes necessary the adoption of the 1929 valuation to adopt the county as a basis for this year's tax apportionment. It is also expected that the report from the attorney general's office will cause the withdrawal of appeals to the state Tax Commission by Pontiac and Oxford. Bloomfield Township tax payers will benefit slightly by the ruling. Supervisors R. J. Corvill, announced, in 1929, the equalized valuation of the township was $3,644,300 and in 1930 the assessed valuation was set at $2,240,605, of which $1,750,330 was added at the recent meeting of the county board of supervisors. Washington E. Irish, Democratic candidate for County Road Commissioner, in a statement last night, declared that he did not intend to accept the valuation. Mr. Boyles' opinion is applicable to Oakland County. Attorneys he has conferred with on the subject do not agree with Boyles' opinion, Irish said. In his contention, he added that the motion passed by a majority of the members present and that there was no evidence of fraud in the matter.

Second Cutting Of Weeds, Sept. 2

The second cutting of the weeds in the village will be begun Tuesday, but the weeds are not so high this year due to the drought. James W. Parris, village manager, says, "The wild carrot and the sweet clover are the only weed that flourishes in hot, dry weather that has been so dry throughout the country this summer."

The few other weeds that have sustained life during the drought are so dry that the fire hazard is more apparent. The present and the sweet clover, the wild carrot and the sweet clover, are the only weeds that flourish in hot, dry weather throughout the country this summer.
