After a consultation with Albert Noonan, village assessor, the Village Commission Monday night agreed to inform D. R. McDougall, 339 Henrietta street, that it cotterred with Mr. Noonan in the valuation he placed in assessing Mr. McDougall's property.

Commissioner Allen, in pointing out to one of the three present mechanics, which he declared, had cost the village $250 in repairs since Feb. 28.

Mr. Parry explained that he did not think the form of the order was according to the regular standards of village business and believed that competitive bids should be sought. For this reason, he said, he brought the matter to the commission for their consideration.
