COMMUNITY ARTS MAKES CHANGES

New System Of Fees Adopted; Name Changed; Meet On Monday

Monday, Community Arts members will meet at the studio on Bates street, and anyone interested in crafts, design and life drawing will be welcome.

Neighborhood Arts and Crafts is the new name of the Community Arts organization, since last Thursday when the Board of Directors decided on the change of name, due to the similarity with other names, causing confusion. All equipment and instruction is supplied from the proceeds of class fees, as the organization is not endowed. Those who have not tested their gifts in the arts and crafts, have an opportunity here to do so at very low cost, as fees cover only maintenance costs, and the larger the membership becomes the lower the class fees will drop. Community Arts has been in existence for three years, developing and maintaining classes at 348 Bates street.

MRS. WALLACE HOSTESS

Tuesday Mrs. Harry L. Wallace and Mrs. Vernon E. Kellert were hostesses for the monthly all-day meeting and luncheon of the Women's Auxiliary of Christ Church, held in the church. Reports from committees took up most of the business meeting.

HOLIDAYS CLOSE RELATIONS CLASS

Group Holds Last Of Series Meetings On Tuesday Morning

After next Tuesday, and until Jan. 6, the International Relations classes will not meet because of the holidays. Round-table discussion next Tuesday morning by the 35 class students will center on "How War Debts Were Incurred. Justification of the Ways, and America's Position At Present." In the afternoon, at 3 o'clock, the round-table discussion will be repeated for members of the Women's Literary Club, for demonstration.

After the short Christmas recess, a course of 16 lessons will be resumed, given each Tuesday afternoon at the Community House under the direction of Mrs. Charles J. Shain.

MISS McCRONE SPEAKS VOWS

In Christ Church Cranbrook, last Thursday, the wedding of Miss Margaret McCrone to Mr. Charles Wilson was celebrated.

The Rev. S. Marple, rector, officiating. Dressed in a beautiful white crepe de chine gown, and carrying a bouquet of white roses and pink sweetpeas, the bride was lovely. Mrs. James Gollygally, sister of the bride, was dressed in orchid chiffon and carried white sweetpeas and yellow baby-moons. Best man was Mr. Thomas McCrone, brother of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gollygally at their home in Bloomfield Center entertained the wedding party after the ceremony, and served 30 guests. Tables were decorated with pink and white chrysanthemums.

A native of Kilmarnock, Ayrshire, Scotland, Mr. Wilson embarked for Australia in 1923, and remained there until 1928 when he came to America for a successful career as a gardener. The bride is a native of Galston, Ayrshire, Scotland, and came to the United States in 1929.

The couple will live at Quarten Lake on the estate of Deles E. Fowler, where Mr. Wilson is employed as gardener.
