

NEW CHURCH IS ORGANIZED

Embury M. E. Church Officers Elected At Meeting On Friday

In the naming of the new church formerly known as the Bennaville Avenue Methodist Church, on the site of the former Congregational Church, Philip Embury, founder of Methodism in the United States, has been honored, and the church will be known as The Embury Methodist Episcopal Church. Suggestion to this effect, offered by Dr. H. A. Field in charge of the district conference, was accepted enthusiastically by the 15 Methodists assembled to organize the new church Friday night.

Rev. Leigh Hall, organizer of the new church group in Birmingham, and laymen of the Detroit conference, reports that no other church in this conference has the prefix "Embury," and he knows of no other church in the country that has honored the United States founder of the Methodist faith in this way. Philip Embury organized the first Methodist church in New York City, and built and dedicated the first Methodist church in America. He was of German-Irish descent, coming to this country in 1769. At the first meeting of the new church in January, a character sketch of Philip Embury will be given by Dr. Field, and Holy Communion and the recitation of charter members will be celebrated. Stewards elected at the Friday night organization meeting of the church included: Mrs. Minnie

Villagers and the Village

In addition to their regular patrol duties, members of the Birmingham Police Department during the holiday season are occupied with protecting local merchants and the men and women who do their Christmas shopping early. And not only that, requests have been made within the past week by villagers that the police department also keep careful watch over evergreen trees that decorate some village lawns, this Wanderer learns.

OAKLAND COUNTY NEWS

Weathering of Royal Oak's financial crisis will be aided by Detroit State institutions if the city makes an effort to collect delinquent taxes and to cut expenses. Members of the board of education, city commission, and re-financing committee were told Friday night by Stanley H. Wilkins, president of the First Detroit Company and the Guardian Detroit Company. Unless help is forthcoming, Mayor R. Lloyd Howland, the city will be $6,000,000 short of meeting obligations by Jan. 1, 1932, at only 10 per cent loan collected on 1930 taxes.

M. A. Davidson, elected president of the Royal Oak Real Estate Board at its meeting last week. Other officers elected were Dean Sherry, vice-president, and Paul W. Feltnor, secretary and treasurer. Mr. Feltnor was re-elected.

A cat marooned on top of a pole at Stephenson Highway and Fourth Street, Hazel Park, was rescued by Fireman Samuel Mesnick of the Royal Oak township fire department Tuesday afternoon.

Another ice skating rink to be located on the north side of the village was authorized Tuesday night by the Clawson village commission. The rink will be located on a site selected by Fred Reams.

Two hundred pints of alleged beer and scores of bottles and cranks were destroyed and one and a half pints of alleged wine and one pint of alleged rum were destroyed in Ferndale by a squad of police with Assistant Prosecutor Duane H. Bowers. The hoard, which is located at 1505 Woodward Heights, is occupied by Fred Reynolds, police say.

A shortage in returns to the village of Berkley by Justice John W. Bowers caused by sheriff's officers for two weeks on a warrant charging him with embezzling $1,000 for the county, was remedied by P. Edward Fahlberg, auditor, to the village commission Thursday night. The shortage consists of two fines which are accounted for, amounting to a total of $72.

Winter state and county taxes will be collected in Royal Oak without penalty from Jan. 10 to Feb. 10, it was announced by the

U. of M. ALUMNI ARE LEADERS IN WHO'S WHO

Ann Arbor, Dec. 18.—Michigan, oldest of mid-western universities, also occupies a position of wide intellectual distinction, leading all other state institutions in the number of its graduates listed in the current edition of Who's Who, famous arbiter of national leaders.

In an attempt to discover what colleges were training the largest proportion of intellectual leaders, Professors Donald B. Frenette and B. W. Kunkel of Lafayette College, Pennsylvania, made an exhaustive study of Who's Who to discover the number of members holding Bachelors degrees from American institutions. Their first findings indicated that a college education seemed to have a definite relationship to rating in the volume, since of the 28,813 persons listed, 16,433 held this degree.

From a total of 129 colleges and universities listed, Harvard stood first with 1,774 of its graduates on the rolls of Who's Who. Yale stood second with 937, Princeton third with 480, Michigan fourth with 474, Columbia fifth with 402, and Cornell sixth with 391. Of those listed who were graded later than 1900, the University of Michigan accounted for 2,68 per cent of the list in this year.

While state supported institutions on the whole occupy a lower position than the old endowed colleges of the East, the investigators point out that the latter produce a higher percentage of the type of professions, such as engineers, college professors, medical men and few engineers and other technical men, who are underrepresented in Who's Who. Similarly they point out women college graduates tend to be crowded out in its pages by women authors, singers and artists, many of whom are not college bred.—Thus technical institutions, women's colleges, and to some ex-

Santa Will Not Be Late

Happy, expectant kiddies will not be disappointed... nor will grownups, either... if we can help it. No reason for Santa to be late, for we have arranged to take care of all his eleventh hour Christmas demands. Last minute shoppers will find here myriads of Christmas gifts of all kinds and at all prices... and unusual facilities for taking care of the hurried last minute shopper's needs.

Will Feed Needy On Christmas Day

Forty-six of the White Tower system lunch rooms in Detroit, Birmingham and many other cities will be open on Christmas Day and no charge will be made for food served here to the hungry. It is announced today by Rev. G. Conklin, representative of the White Tower, that he expects to feed thousands of unfortunate men and women on that day. "We will be glad to take care of all the unemployed in Birmingham on that day," he said.

Village To Have 3 Skating Rinks

Skating enthusiasts and hockey players in Birmingham will be assured several rinks in and near the village this winter and many college youths home for the holidays are expected to take advantage of the winter sporting facilities in Birmingham and the hills. Three skating rinks multiplexly erected at a skating and hockey rink at Quanton lake are expected to be established for the winter this week. Previous efforts to flood the proposed rinks were unsuccessful because the soil had not sufficiently hardened.

CAGERS AND TANKMEN CONTINUE PRACTICE

Vacation will not mark a period of idleness for the Detroit swimming and basketball teams, their respective coaches, E. T. Engel and Franklin Whitney, announce. The basketballers will practice during the two weeks with exceptions of Christmas and New Year's Day, and the tankmen will in all probability use all this period also. Basketball practice was held Saturday morning following the Alumni game Friday night. The basketball team is handicapped in getting their alumni into the volume, the authors suggest.

Be Sure

that your car is properly lubricated in cold weather. Every moving part must have a film of non-congealing oil when the temperature is near zero. We use Clark's lubricant for axles and transmissions, and Pennzol in motors. Have your car oiled and greased in clean warm quarters by competent mechanics and avoid repair bills. REMEMBER—We service all makes of cars in our well-equipped Buick garage.
