

MINSTREL SHOW FOR NEEDY FRIDAY

Fellowship Club To Present Second Annual Performance At Community House

Tomorrow night, Friday, Dec. 5, will be gala night at the Community House Auditorium when the "Honey Du" Minstrels of the Fellowship Club present their annual revival of old-fashioned burnt cork minstrelsy. A capacity crowd is expected, although tickets may still be had and there are no reserved seats.

The cast includes many well known young men of Birmingham, including: Charles McMillan, Joe Purvis, Howard Dick, Bill Spence, Loren Elliott, Harry Teichert, Art Kane, Howard Pollock, and a singing chorus of 25 men and the "Honey Du" quartet, Elizabeth Hester, Virginia dramatic soprano of the A. E. F., and well known by the American Legion, comedienne of the same, also, in a characteristic sketch.

Patrons are promised a better show than the low priced admission, 50c, indicates and the profits of the enterprise will be distributed to the needy Birmingham people in six sections of the village.

Members of the newly-organized Birmingham Goodfellows will meet at 10 a. m. Sunday in the fire hall to discuss plans for the sale of newspapers, Dec. 12, for the benefit of the needy in the village.

Members of the committee are as follows: Raymond Peck, Phil Williams and Frank J. Mulholland; members: Capt. William Thornton, Walter Benscoter and Charles Jones; Robert Hennen-Harry Johnson, Robert Dahn and Joseph McQuinn.

The sale will start at 5 a. m. Last year the Goodfellows obtained $1,200 for the aid of the needy through the sale of newspapers.

Old Men Make Toys for Santa

These old men once knew the joys of Christmas loss. That's why, as inmates of the Old Men's Home at Philadelphia, they are working extra hard these days to finish these playthings in time to be included in Santa's big pack.

W. Biggar, 74, is shown at the left and William Myers, 68, at the right.

Incidental to the re-count, the canvassing board threw out 209 ballots on which the name of Norman C. Orf, Oakland County Prosecutor, had been written in anchored to the floor.
