BEFORE 'LITTLE BOYS' GROW UP INTO BIG ONES, THEY LIKE...

'Krazy-Ikes' Sets You can make futurist sets as well as prehistoric boxes and men out of the 'Krazy Ikes' sets of inter-changeable heads, bodies, and 'missing links'.

Musical or not, rotonnacas make a lot of harmony. Just blow, and turn the player-roll of paper around by means of a crank.

Boats, Airplanes Any small boy would like a boat or an airplane for Christmas.

Let's Play Soldier! United States troops, a flag pole, and a cannon form the basis for a game of soldiers that many small Birmingham boys will play on Christmas day.

A-1 Toy-Money Toy money is better than the real thing for small boys and girls to play with.

For Work-with-Tools A 'Plan Book for the Boy Builder' will help keep the tools away from the home furniture.

Sand-Cranes 'Sandy Andy Cranes' furnished with enough sand to start the play, will keep many a small boy in Birmingham out of other mischief after Christmas.

Backgammon! Checker and backgammon boards by the hundreds are stacked in the stores here because of the annual demand for standard old games that have become unfashionable by popular opinion in the last few months.

How-to-Make-Things 'Ready Hands' books received at Christmas will furnish blue-prints for occupying the time and energies of hundreds of boys and girls here, making dozens of useful things.

Tools, Trains Tool chests and trains, of all kinds, found in Birmingham stores, will form substantial and practical gifts under Christmas trees.

Airplane-Games 'Playing Airplane' is one of the ways to develop air-minded boys and girls. Almost any of the dozens of games with the word 'airplane' in the name, will serve the purpose.

Rubber Horseshoes Horse hoos-ing- requires that you'll have to admit. Playing with rubber horseshoes is even better indoors sport. Be sure to have a set this season.

For a Boy Scout Every boy scout will want some article, or several, at Christmas to make his official equipment more complete.

with hooks and rings to be flipped over them by means of a round button-dipper. 'Roulette-O' is a wheel with bright balls, but does not suggest Monte Carlo.

Things-to-Wear Boys like leather coats, bathrobes, blouses, cravats and hosiery, warm mittens, and nicely-looking hand-socking shoes in the way of gift-things to wear.

Painting-Sets Young artists will go for painting-sets in a big way. One outfit provides twelve colored paints for trial.
