"Mind" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches on Sunday, February 23.
Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Give unto the Lord the glory due unto his name: bring an offering, and come before him; worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness." (1 Chron. 16:29).
The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The infinite never began nor will it ever end. Mind and its formation can never be annihilated." (p. 245).

THEATERS

PUBLIC KUNSKY BIRMINGHAM THEATER
Tonight
Harold Lloyd, the originality laughboy of the screen, believes that better comedy can be secured if he has supporting cast of well known actors. That's why he personally selected his supporting cast for his latest picture "Welcome Danger" showing the last time tonight. It is his first all-talking picture.
Friday and Saturday
"So This is College," is probably the best picture ever made depicting college life which bears any resemblance to actual conditions, by Mary Baker Eddy. Robert Montgomery, Sally Starr, Elliott Nugent and Phyllis Crane have the principal roles in the two-Goldwyn-Mayer production.
Added short subject features will be a new version of "Movietone Revue" in color, a Paramount Comedy entitled "Marriage Wows" also the current scene news. Saturday matinee the "Kidnie Klub" will see in addition another installment of the popular serial, "King of the Kongos."
Sunday, Monday & Tuesday
Ronald Colman, who made such a decided hit with Birmingham theatergoers in "Buildup Drummond," comes in his latest melodramatic thriller "Condemned" with Anne Harding in support. "Condemned" is based on Blair Niles' Novel "Condemned to Devil's Island" and has been made into excellent entertainment thru intelligent direction and proper casting. It is an absorbing story. The story involves the shame of the warden's wife for a convict sentenced for theft. The scenes are dramatic in their entirety.
An excellent selection of short features will make an attractive and pleasing program for Birmingham Theatergoers for next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.
Wednesday & Thursday
Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks together in "Taming of the Shrew" comes next week for two days.
Fairbanks has succeeded in making an amusing document of his part, while Miss Pickford wins with her sweetness. It is a slap-stick farce highly costumed. The picture justifies the hope that it has been entertained for centuries. It is something of a modern miracle. It is Shakespeare presented intelligently, with some understanding of its original spirit, and at the same time alive with a furious modern life.
Lois Wilson's latest Paramount Act entitled "For Love and Money" Grandland's Sportlight, & Pathe News will round out another pace-setting entertainment.

DETROIT CIVIC THEATER
"The Music Master" will begin its engagement at the Detroit Civic Theatre on Tuesday night, March 4 and Walter Sherwin remains to play the part of lovable old Anton Von Bulow, the title role of David Belasco's comedy of the same name. The king of musician has long been a favorite of the older playgoer and it is with pleasure that The Detroit Civic Theatre company introduces him to the "younger generation" which is not so familiar with the unsentimental gaiety of the picturesque-old Bohemian life. The story of Von Bulow is touching; his brave struggle to keep his musical ideals, even when the Bricklayers' Union calls a sympathetic strike of the Musicians' Union because a certain music-hall is to be built with non-union-made bricks; his weary search for the little daughter who was stolen from him, with her mother 16 years before; his sentimental delight in the love-affair of Poonis, the young German violinist, and pretty Jenny, the landlady's niece, and his final unexpected happiness.

WE HEARD IT SAID BY—

Here are all the ingredients for a delightful evening's entertainment, well mixed by a master hand. The easy Bohemian setting of one scene contrasts, sharply with the luxurious conventionalism of another. The seriousness of one situation is framed by the recurrent humor of those less important, and filled with laughter and charm.

In the Service of Faith

In moments of extreme sorrow it is a genuine relief to realize that there is someone to assume the burden of detail that should never be your problem at this time.

We are at your service every hour of the day and night.
