

ATTORNEY FEE IS RESCINDED BY JUDGE DOTY

A. L. Moore, Counsel in $200,000 Will Case, Is Denied Order BACK TO PROBATE Judge Frank L. Doty, in an opinion handed down Friday, set aside a previous order he had made in the Ida M. Woodward estate case, denying an attorney's fee in excess of $20,000 for A. L. Moore, counsel for minor heirs in the litigation. Judge Doty declared that he had not been completely informed as to the facts in the order obtained from him by Moore. The question of attorney fees in the case was referred to the Oakland County Probate Court for determination and disposition. An estate of more than $200,000 was willed to relatives and

WE HEARD IT SAID BY—

Orta J. Tuttle, Chief of Police, "Residents of the village would do the police department and themselves a distinct favor if they would assist us in curbing crime and lawlessness. If they would call the department as soon as they see suspicious persons, particularly in the residential districts." friends by Miss Ida L. Woodward of Pontiac and the will was admitted to probate, July 9, 1928. An appeal was taken to Circuit Court by Byron V. Woodward, Mrs. Anna Grant and Mrs. Mary Lamb who later withdrew their claim and settled for $12,000. Moore obtained an order from Judge Doty to represent Marjory Bassil and Hector Ewell, and Eloise M. and Ellsworth Sage, minor heirs, on a contingent fee basis not to exceed 20 per cent of their interests in the event the will was sustained. When Moore attempted to obtain his fee from the First National Bank and Trust company, representative of the Woodward estate, he was refused. The bank then petitioned the court as to what fee should be paid.

MRS. FELDER, 68, BURIED TUESDAY

Village Resident For 47 Years Died Sunday, After Long Illness Mrs. Frances Felder, 68, was buried Tuesday afternoon in Roseclark Park cemetery after funeral services conducted by Rev. Forest at S. O. Wylie Bell's Home for Funerals. Mrs. Felder died Sunday/ at 9:30 p. m. after an illness of almost three years. Born in Southfield, she had lived in Birmingham for 47 years, having resided at different times on Chester street, on Daines street, and at 732 Pierce street, where she lived from 1912 until the time of her death. Survivors of Mrs. Felder include her widower, John Felder, and her daughter, Mrs. Iva Felder Deat, of 720 Pierce street. A brother, Oliver Monroe, died at Ann Arbor last summer.

Villagers and the Village

What of courtesy in the younger generation? It flourishes, contends this Wanderer, who cites as an example the faithful waiter in a Woodward avenue tea room mentioned to a group of business men who had recently read a compliment about them. The newspaper in which the compliment was published, he said, was in his locker at school. They evidenced interest and told him they would look it up in the editor. He mentioned. Thinking the matter dropped, they continued their meal. In a few minutes the informative, young man appeared, and breathing rather rapidly, he asked, "What's the matter?" He asked, "Oh, I just ran over to the Baldwin High School to see if that article was still in your locker, but it's gone. I'm sorry I couldn't find it for you," he explained. If this isn't congenial courtesy what is? The young man is Harry York, captain of the Baldwin High School track team.

CRISSEY TO LEAD COUNTY Y CAMP

Chicago Graduate Will Direct Summer Work At Loon Lake Project. Oris Crissey, 25 years old, of Chicago, yesterday accepted the offer to become the 1930 summer director for Oakland County Y. M. C. A. work at the new Loon Lake camp at Loon Lake, according to a telegram received here by Robert D. Lynd, local Y. M. C. A. secretary. Mr. Crissey will arrive here June 20 to start work. He is a graduate of Minnesota State University, Chicago, Y. M. C. A. College, and will receive his M. A. degree this spring from Chicago University. Mr. Crissey is married, and comes with excellent recommendations. It is reported. Upon his return he will rest the great responsibility of planning and directing the coming summer's camp work at Oakland County Y. M. C. A. Loon Lake.

Tuttle Admits Local Attorney

Forbes Hascall, the son of Louis Hascall, 87 Oakland avenue, was one of the 24 attorneys admitted to practice in the Federal Court by Judge Arthur J. Tuttle last week in the largest group ever received by the court. All of the attorneys were presented for admission to practice in the Federal Court at Detroit on the motion of Circuit Judge Frank L. Covert, of Pontiac.

Do You Need Glasses?

Your eyes are worth millions of dollars to you. They are worth taking care of. If they are not in perfect condition, let us examine them thoroughly and prescribe the sort of glasses you require.

J. H. STOVER, O. D. OPTOMETRIST Hours: Daily 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. Sat. & Mon. 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. 129 E. Maple Phone 2328

Our Service Features

Our service features quality, dependable material and a complete knowledge of modern sanitation, which assures you of absolute satisfaction on all work. Call us when the necessity arises, you will find us ready and willing to serve you at all times.

D. B. Wilkinson PLUMBING AND HEATING

411-413 East Maple Avenue Telephone 313 "Just One Block East of Woodward"

SHAIN'S DRUGS

CANDY

There is a wide variety of candy moods and we are prepared to supply all of them. Small items, bulk candy, large boxed candies of quality in a wide price range... we offer complete selections. We suggest that you make a mental note about our candy department so that on future occasions you are able to find answer to your question of where you may secure the best from the greatest variety.

BIRMINGHAM'S OLDEST DRUG STORE West Maple and Pierce Phone 61 MISS E. J. BASSETT MR. C. J. SHAIN MR. FOSTER TOOTHACKER MR. P. B. SHAIN

South Adams Avenue He has been a resident of Birmingham for 30 years. He is an experienced teamster and an expert full term. He is the father of three children and is engaged in the insurance business both in Birmingham and Detroit. He is president of the Birmingham Exchange Club. In 1910 he was graduated from Syracuse University with a degree of bachelor of laws and for 18 years was employed by the Travelers Insurance Co.

Mr. Ellerby declined to give a statement. "I probably will accept now that my petitions have been filed," he said, "but I haven't anything for publication now. I'm going to wait a while." Mr. Wendorff is 63 years old, lives with his family at 815 Forest avenue and has been a resident of Birmingham for 20 years. He is the father of five children. In 1914-15 he served on the Village Council and has been a member of the village planning commission since it was organized. He has been in the cemetery planning business for 39 years.

Mr. Lewis is 40 years old and lives at 272 Hamors road. He was born at (Manchester, Mich.), and has been a resident of Birmingham for seven years. He has two sons and is a member of the law firm of Warren, Hill and Hamblen in Detroit. Mr. Lewis also has been a member of the village planning commission since it was organized. He is a member of the Village City Committee in 1928. He was urged to be a candidate by numerous business men and friends in the village. He was graduated from the University of Michigan Law School in 1913 with A. B. and LL. B. degrees.

Dr. Tedcor is 40 years old and lives at 280 Euclid avenue. He was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1923 and has been a resident of the village for six years. He is a member of the Boy Scout District Committee and his petitions were circulated by Allen McGirr.

Mr. Connelly is 42 years old and lives at 1251 East Maple avenue. He was born at Saginaw, Mich., and has been a resident of Birmingham "but 10 years. He was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1911 as a civil engineer. He is an independent candidate and for the past two years has been a member of the Detroit Engineering Society, president of the Michigan Engineering Society at Ann Arbor last year, and seeing the amazing things science has accomplished within the last 20 years and feeling it is accomplishing today, I experience a thrill just to be living in so many of the things that we have and gave a contract for $15,000. He claimed to have sold his interest in about the same day to Paul Kamper, Detroit architect, for $30,000.

In the spring of 1928 the school board hired experts to conduct a school survey and it was determined more land was necessary. Sachse is said to have owned the school board that Kamper owned the land thought necessary for an addition to the high school, and that his price was $32,500. The board voted to buy it and paid $17,500 in cash and assumed the Sachse contract for the $15,000 due, Orr said.

A meeting held by the present board of education after charges of fraud had been made, reported that their investigation of the deal convinced them that the proceedings had been legal. When Kamper heard of the investigation he informed Orr that he had never received any money in the deal. Orr then petitioned Judge Doty to sit as a one-man grand jury and nine witnesses were questioned. The witnesses were: Paul I. Kamper, E. L. Waite, Kamron Hasleton, Robert Anglemier, John F. Stewart, Albert Weber, John C. Tilson, Gabriel J. Rapaport and Ernest F. Oberlin.

On Saturday, before his indictment, Sachse resigned his position as vice-president and a member of the board of the People's State Trust and Savings Bank of Pontiac. Sachse is former president of the banking institution, is president of the Oakland County Tuberculosis association and a director of the Pontiac Welfare League. He is also an active worker for the Pontiac Board of Commerce and a member of the Central Methodist Church. Formerly a partner in the dry goods firm of Beattie and Sachse, he later became a member of the Chase Mercantile Co. and for many years has been identified in the social and political life of Pontiac.

Warm words come from the forestry south to the frozen north this week as the Wanderer receives a brief letter from John Hanna, Forest avenger, who, with Mrs. Hanna, is spending the winter at Daytona Beach, Florida.

Mr. Hanna is a newspaper clipping that shows he won the shuffleboard contest with a score of 146, a near record for all Florida. The contest lasted two days. The Wanderer suggested that Mr. Hanna be invited to be a candidate for the village council.

Two bond issues, one for $54,000 for the payment for land for the Civic Center, and another for $53,000 for the construction of a municipal garage and warehouse, are on an addition to the regular village election, Mar. 10.

The payment of the land for the civic center site is necessary, the land having been awarded by general bond issues entirely over a period of 20 years, or meet the expense out of current budgets, is the question to be considered by the voters.

Inasmuch as the land is to be developed for posterity, James Farry, village manager, says, the public undoubtedly will favor paying for it by the proposed plan.

The second bond issue does not involve the purchase of any land for the warehouse. The site for the proposed warehouse, is assumed to have been acquired because the village plans to obtain it through an exchange of property along the Grand Trunk right-of-way. The village hopes to construct suitable buildings units in an ultimate service yard with a garage, warehouse, and a machine store and rubbish disposal. Additional units may be added as the village grows and only such construction as is immediately needed will be carried out, Mr. Farry said.

Charter Revision The proposed change in the village charter is for the issuance of special-general bonds for local improvements instead of special assessment bonds. First, the special general bonds are an obligation to be met by the local district, and second, an obligation on the village, which is indefinitely deferred. The village guarantees the assessments when and as they become due. The question of special assessment projects by the village is not involved in the proposed change. The proposal is only in the type of bond, a plan, which, Mr. Farry stated, should be adopted because it will result in a more favorable market for the sale of the bonds.

He was indicted Feb. 1 after a one-man grand jury investigation conducted by Judge Frank L. Doty of the Oakland Circuit Court. Sachse's indictment resulted from Judge Doty's findings after he had conducted a one-man grand jury investigation into a real estate deal of two years ago when the Pontiac Union School District acquired for $2,500 a little more than two acres of land as an addition to the Washington Junior High School site. Sachse, who at that time was president of the school board, bought the acreage from the Ottawa Hill Land Co., in October, 1927 for $17,000.

WE HEARD IT SAID BY—

Harold H. Corson, Village Engineer "After attending the 45th anniversary celebration of the Michigan Engineering Society at Ann Arbor last year, and seeing the amazing things science has accomplished within the last 20 years and feeling it is accomplishing today, I experience a thrill just to be living in so many of the things that we have and gave a contract for $15,000. He claimed to have sold his interest in about the same day to Paul Kamper, Detroit architect, for $30,000.

WE HEARD IT SAID BY—

Harold H. Corson, Village Engineer "After attending the 45th anniversary celebration of the Michigan Engineering Society at Ann Arbor last year, and seeing the amazing things science has accomplished within the last 20 years and feeling it is accomplishing today, I experience a thrill just to be living in so many of the things that we have and gave a contract for $15,000. He claimed to have sold his interest in about the same day to Paul Kamper, Detroit architect, for $30,000.

In the spring of 1928 the school board hired experts to conduct a school survey and it was determined more land was necessary. Sachse is said to have owned the school board that Kamper owned the land thought necessary for an addition to the high school, and that his price was $32,500. The board voted to buy it and paid $17,500 in cash and assumed the Sachse contract for the $15,000 due, Orr said.

A meeting held by the present board of education after charges of fraud had been made, reported that their investigation of the deal convinced them that the proceedings had been legal. When Kamper heard of the investigation he informed Orr that he had never received any money in the deal. Orr then petitioned Judge Doty to sit as a one-man grand jury and nine witnesses were questioned. The witnesses were: Paul I. Kamper, E. L. Waite, Kamron Hasleton, Robert Anglemier, John F. Stewart, Albert Weber, John C. Tilson, Gabriel J. Rapaport and Ernest F. Oberlin.

On Saturday, before his indictment, Sachse resigned his position as vice-president and a member of the board of the People's State Trust and Savings Bank of Pontiac. Sachse is former president of the banking institution, is president of the Oakland County Tuberculosis association and a director of the Pontiac Welfare League. He is also an active worker for the Pontiac Board of Commerce and a member of the Central Methodist Church. Formerly a partner in the dry goods firm of Beattie and Sachse, he later became a member of the Chase Mercantile Co. and for many years has been identified in the social and political life of Pontiac.

Charter Revision The proposed change in the village charter is for the issuance of special-general bonds for local improvements instead of special assessment bonds. First, the special general bonds are an obligation to be met by the local district, and second, an obligation on the village, which is indefinitely deferred. The village guarantees the assessments when and as they become due. The question of special assessment projects by the village is not involved in the proposed change. The proposal is only in the type of bond, a plan, which, Mr. Farry stated, should be adopted because it will result in a more favorable market for the sale of the bonds.

He was indicted Feb. 1 after a one-man grand jury investigation conducted by Judge Frank L. Doty of the Oakland Circuit Court. Sachse's indictment resulted from Judge Doty's findings after he had conducted a one-man grand jury investigation into a real estate deal of two years ago when the Pontiac Union School District acquired for $2,500 a little more than two acres of land as an addition to the Washington Junior High School site. Sachse, who at that time was president of the school board, bought the acreage from the Ottawa Hill Land Co., in October, 1927 for $17,000.

WE HEARD IT SAID BY—

Harold H. Corson, Village Engineer "After attending the 45th anniversary celebration of the Michigan Engineering Society at Ann Arbor last year, and seeing the amazing things science has accomplished within the last 20 years and feeling it is accomplishing today, I experience a thrill just to be living in so many of the things that we have and gave a contract for $15,000. He claimed to have sold his interest in about the same day to Paul Kamper, Detroit architect, for $30,000.

WE HEARD IT SAID BY—

Harold H. Corson, Village Engineer "After attending the 45th anniversary celebration of the Michigan Engineering Society at Ann Arbor last year, and seeing the amazing things science has accomplished within the last 20 years and feeling it is accomplishing today, I experience a thrill just to be living in so many of the things that we have and gave a contract for $15,000. He claimed to have sold his interest in about the same day to Paul Kamper, Detroit architect, for $30,000.

In the spring of 1928 the school board hired experts to conduct a school survey and it was determined more land was necessary. Sachse is said to have owned the school board that Kamper owned the land thought necessary for an addition to the high school, and that his price was $32,500. The board voted to buy it and paid $17,500 in cash and assumed the Sachse contract for the $15,000 due, Orr said.

A meeting held by the present board of education after charges of fraud had been made, reported that their investigation of the deal convinced them that the proceedings had been legal. When Kamper heard of the investigation he informed Orr that he had never received any money in the deal. Orr then petitioned Judge Doty to sit as a one-man grand jury and nine witnesses were questioned. The witnesses were: Paul I. Kamper, E. L. Waite, Kamron Hasleton, Robert Anglemier, John F. Stewart, Albert Weber, John C. Tilson, Gabriel J. Rapaport and Ernest F. Oberlin.

On Saturday, before his indictment, Sachse resigned his position as vice-president and a member of the board of the People's State Trust and Savings Bank of Pontiac. Sachse is former president of the banking institution, is president of the Oakland County Tuberculosis association and a director of the Pontiac Welfare League. He is also an active worker for the Pontiac Board of Commerce and a member of the Central Methodist Church. Formerly a partner in the dry goods firm of Beattie and Sachse, he later became a member of the Chase Mercantile Co. and for many years has been identified in the social and political life of Pontiac.

Charter Revision The proposed change in the village charter is for the issuance of special-general bonds for local improvements instead of special assessment bonds. First, the special general bonds are an obligation to be met by the local district, and second, an obligation on the village, which is indefinitely deferred. The village guarantees the assessments when and as they become due. The question of special assessment projects by the village is not involved in the proposed change. The proposal is only in the type of bond, a plan, which, Mr. Farry stated, should be adopted because it will result in a more favorable market for the sale of the bonds.

He was indicted Feb. 1 after a one-man grand jury investigation conducted by Judge Frank L. Doty of the Oakland Circuit Court. Sachse's indictment resulted from Judge Doty's findings after he had conducted a one-man grand jury investigation into a real estate deal of two years ago when the Pontiac Union School District acquired for $2,500 a little more than two acres of land as an addition to the Washington Junior High School site. Sachse, who at that time was president of the school board, bought the acreage from the Ottawa Hill Land Co., in October, 1927 for $17,000.

How much would you lose?

Have you bought a new radio lately? New rugs? New furniture? If fire destroyed your property tonight, how much would you lose on every dollar invested? Is your policy adequate? Or is it for the same old amount you had ten years ago? Walk (or run) to the telephone and ask us to help you check up on your insurance. That's our business. It's yours, too.

J. B. HOWARTH & SON REAL ESTATE AND INSURANCE

PHONE 321 FIRST NATIONAL BANK BLDG.

The biggest sensation in Radio History

A Galaxy of Noted Artists to Broadcast Over Nation-wide Hook-up Tune in on Station WJW Thursday, Feb. 13th, 10 P. M. Proper reception is assured through the Victor Radio

GRINNELL BROS.

144 S. Woodward Ave.

SAVE EVERY DAY

You Can Buy Your FURNITURE and RUGS direct from the Wolverine Warehouse Store and Save 25% to 35% Franklin Road and G. T. R. R. - Pontiac AMPLE PARKING SPACE

Artoc colors

In the most complete and beautiful array ever offered by any paint manufacturer. Sold in Birmingham by THE DEVOE STORE THEATRE BUILDING ARTLAC DRIES IN 4 HOURS NO UNDERCOAT NECESSARY NO OFFENSIVE ODOR