DETROIT TO FETE LOCAL D'MOLAYS

Finalist Lodge Will Be Host To Hasseberg Chapter On Wednesday

Officers and members of the James S. Hasseberg chapter, Order of De Molay, will journey to Detroit, next Wednesday evening, where they will be the guests of the local chapter. The initiatory and De Molay degrees will be conferred on a class of candidates by the local chapter. Members are requested to meet at the Birmingham Masonic Temple not later than 6:30 p. m.

"Take My Advice," by Lester Elliott, has been chosen to be the fourth annual De Molay play, according to announcement made yesterday by the selection committee, composed of Richard Fleming, James Spence, Tom Townsend, and Gordon Thornton. As in the past, it will be held at the Baldwin High School, Mar. 20 and 21. The play will be presented on more than one night for the first time.

Tryouts for "Take My Advice" will be conducted Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. at the Masonic Temple. The male parts will be taken by the De Molay boys. The female parts are open to any Birmingham girls, and all interested are urged by the committee to try out Tuesday night.

Tickets will be sold by the Birmingham Lodge, No. 44, F. and A. M. Mrs. G. Dewey Kimball will again direct the play. The Molay plays presented during the past three years are "The Bride Breezes In," "Fifty-Fifty," and "Fast Workers."

The show staged by the Senate, is, practically "all talking."

Beauty is only skin deep and a lot of folks are mighty thin skinned.

The girls at the Big Beaver School have organized a basketball team with Miss Marian Eschen as captain. Frankie Orf will lead the boys' team. The schedule of games will be announced later.

Farm Notes

With all the modern comforts in the farm home, there is one advantage which has been overlooked. In most farm homes there is a lack of books and other good reading matter.

The folks in towns have the advantage of public libraries which they can get to easily, but it has been found that there are few public libraries in the country districts.

In the last few years some libraries have been set up primarily for the use of the farm homes. The most satisfactory rural library is the kind which is managed by the county, there now being 369 county libraries in the United States.

ARTIFICIAL LIGHTS MAKE THE HENS WORK

It has been found that a hen is worth an average of 70 cents more to a poultry raiser if he uses artificial lights. It is of course all a matter of getting more eggs. The average hen will lay twelve or thirteen more eggs during the winter if she is kept under artificial light.

Of course, during the winter hens need to be given enough green feed or high-quality legume hay. They ought to get plenty of exposure to the direct sunlight, but they can be made to do without it.

An owner of three hundred hens has put up a light $200 or so per winter by giving the birds the proper light and feed.

After robbing a fur store in Chicago, the burglars placed a new lock on the door to replace the one they had smashed.

The longest train ever pulled is said to have been one of 201 cars on the Virginian railroad.

A whole snark caught off Knights Key, Fla., in 1912 weighed 26,594 pounds.

Only a Very Few Can Ever Own These Fine Radio Receivers

Not Because They Are Expensive But By Reason of Their Construction

For those who want something different, something superior in a radio receiver without paying a prohibitive price for it, this world renowned receiver is the answer. Yet, only a few can ever own them, because they are hand made. The fine things are always hand made! We have already installed a few of them in this territory and we seek other discriminating buyers of radio to hear them. Words are futile to describe the beauty of tone and appearance. Space will not permit of a recount of the world's records for distance reception, in some cases more than 8,000 miles.

And, as remarkable as the receiver itself is the power. It is not expensive in five radio receivers go. In fact, it costs less than most receivers which it outperforms with ease! Let us show and demonstrate this unusual receiver to you. A telephone call or card will arrange a private demonstration at your convenience.
