

BIRMINGHAM ECCENTRIC

Published every Thursday at Birmingham, Mich. in The Eccentric Building, 216-222 North Woodward Avenue. Telephone 11 and 12.

GEORGE ROBERT AYERLLI, Editor and Publisher. LEO A. DONOVAN, Business Manager. PAUL NEAL AYERLLI, Advertising Manager.

The Eccentric is a member of: National Editorial Association; Michigan Press Association, University Press Club, and Oakland County Weekly Press Association.

THURSDAY, JULY 24, 1930

NOTE: The Eccentric is pleased to publish stories of events which have news value, which are written by persons connected with the editorial staff of the paper.

Civic "Lighthouses"
The United States government, as well as every other government in the world, spends much money each year to safeguard the paths of vessels and their valuable cargoes.

View Politics Sanelly

Between now and September 9, when Birmingham, and all Michigan, go to the polls in a primary election to select candidates for the general election November 4, you will hear much about your government.

Broadcasting From The Beyond

The death of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, creator of Sherlock Holmes and investigator of that supreme mystery, the world beyond, recalls the book recently published in America with the title I Told Wilson?

Our Mental Radios

Forever, now-a-days, there are being broadcast through the ether radio programs; by just twisting the tuning dial, one gets in touch with a variety of invisible, yet audible, programs.

Inspired Thoughts

One lesson, Nature, let me learn of thee, One lesson which in every wind is blown, One lesson of two duties kept at one.

For Crying Out Loud

"Mrs. Alice McCrory and son, Harvey, went to Dayton, Ohio, to visit Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dunbar, who were recently injured in an automobile accident last week."

State Department Goes Informal

Can the spirit of the efficiency age be invading that bulwark of formality, our State Department? According to recent official decrees, departmental letters to others than the President, Vice-President, or State governor will no longer be closed.

Not So Many Sharks!

Nobody knows how many sharks infest the world's waters and probably not many care even to think about it. Few subjects call up such terrifying thoughts as the shark.

Today's Come-On

(Personals) C—JUST to show you how sorry I am, I will meet you any time and place you like. Dream Girl.

Horse-Scope

According to the stars an increase in the price of food is forecast. While this way continues people without a job are expected to give the old racket that enables them to change their lives.

Beware of Demagogues

Demagogues are a very real menace in our present time. They are men who are established for other purposes according to the latest statistics from the Federal Bureau of Fisheries.

Believe It If You Can

Cairo, Egypt—July 24 (Special to the Eccentric) Pictured above is the rooster that claims to have been born before the first egg-laying chicken.

Famous Tragedies

A Parable of Sated the Sage went to tea in the home of a friend who had a billiard table and a Lady of Intelligence and Culture.

The Wrinkles and the Knees

And she said, Yes, I am all of one mind, and there is found among the young people that is like to be true in religion.

They Have Murmured

To have an aim, either as a target, or as an end, or for the making of your life, is to have an objective. By concentrating your thoughts on that objective, you will find that you have no aim at all, and too often become burdened and weary.

IT DEPENDS ON THE FOCUS
EX-TRIX
The Eccentric is pleased to publish stories of events which have news value, which are written by persons connected with the editorial staff of the paper.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN
The Eccentric is pleased to publish stories of events which have news value, which are written by persons connected with the editorial staff of the paper.

Girls Do Ask Me

We have heard a great deal in recent years about girls. We called her "modern" girl and the "flapper," because she was so independent, so aggressively coquettish, and so ready to break over the line of conventionality.

Other Chap Says Something

And I said, Tell me more about that. And she said, We may buy our complexion in the Drug store, and the Color of our Hair in the Beauty parlor.

The "Big Shots" Say

Henry Worth Thornton, Canadian railway official: "The fundamental obstacle to peace is our hereditary contentious psychology, perhaps dormant but always explosive."

Kidding The Great Ones

Buffalo Bill, (also known as William F. Cody) drew up his foaming Pinto pony before the spectators on his horse show.

They Have Murmured

To have an aim, either as a target, or as an end, or for the making of your life, is to have an objective. By concentrating your thoughts on that objective, you will find that you have no aim at all, and too often become burdened and weary.

For Crying Out Loud

"Mrs. Alice McCrory and son, Harvey, went to Dayton, Ohio, to visit Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dunbar, who were recently injured in an automobile accident last week."

Girls Do Ask Me

We have heard a great deal in recent years about girls. We called her "modern" girl and the "flapper," because she was so independent, so aggressively coquettish, and so ready to break over the line of conventionality.

Other Chap Says Something

And I said, Tell me more about that. And she said, We may buy our complexion in the Drug store, and the Color of our Hair in the Beauty parlor.

The "Big Shots" Say

Henry Worth Thornton, Canadian railway official: "The fundamental obstacle to peace is our hereditary contentious psychology, perhaps dormant but always explosive."

Kidding The Great Ones

Buffalo Bill, (also known as William F. Cody) drew up his foaming Pinto pony before the spectators on his horse show.

They Have Murmured

To have an aim, either as a target, or as an end, or for the making of your life, is to have an objective. By concentrating your thoughts on that objective, you will find that you have no aim at all, and too often become burdened and weary.

For Crying Out Loud

"Mrs. Alice McCrory and son, Harvey, went to Dayton, Ohio, to visit Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dunbar, who were recently injured in an automobile accident last week."

Girls Do Ask Me

We have heard a great deal in recent years about girls. We called her "modern" girl and the "flapper," because she was so independent, so aggressively coquettish, and so ready to break over the line of conventionality.

Other Chap Says Something

And I said, Tell me more about that. And she said, We may buy our complexion in the Drug store, and the Color of our Hair in the Beauty parlor.

The "Big Shots" Say

Henry Worth Thornton, Canadian railway official: "The fundamental obstacle to peace is our hereditary contentious psychology, perhaps dormant but always explosive."

Kidding The Great Ones

Buffalo Bill, (also known as William F. Cody) drew up his foaming Pinto pony before the spectators on his horse show.

They Have Murmured

To have an aim, either as a target, or as an end, or for the making of your life, is to have an objective. By concentrating your thoughts on that objective, you will find that you have no aim at all, and too often become burdened and weary.

For Crying Out Loud

"Mrs. Alice McCrory and son, Harvey, went to Dayton, Ohio, to visit Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dunbar, who were recently injured in an automobile accident last week."

Girls Do Ask Me

We have heard a great deal in recent years about girls. We called her "modern" girl and the "flapper," because she was so independent, so aggressively coquettish, and so ready to break over the line of conventionality.

Other Chap Says Something

And I said, Tell me more about that. And she said, We may buy our complexion in the Drug store, and the Color of our Hair in the Beauty parlor.

The "Big Shots" Say

Henry Worth Thornton, Canadian railway official: "The fundamental obstacle to peace is our hereditary contentious psychology, perhaps dormant but always explosive."

Kidding The Great Ones

Buffalo Bill, (also known as William F. Cody) drew up his foaming Pinto pony before the spectators on his horse show.

They Have Murmured

To have an aim, either as a target, or as an end, or for the making of your life, is to have an objective. By concentrating your thoughts on that objective, you will find that you have no aim at all, and too often become burdened and weary.

For Crying Out Loud

"Mrs. Alice McCrory and son, Harvey, went to Dayton, Ohio, to visit Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dunbar, who were recently injured in an automobile accident last week."

Girls Do Ask Me

We have heard a great deal in recent years about girls. We called her "modern" girl and the "flapper," because she was so independent, so aggressively coquettish, and so ready to break over the line of conventionality.

Other Chap Says Something

And I said, Tell me more about that. And she said, We may buy our complexion in the Drug store, and the Color of our Hair in the Beauty parlor.

The "Big Shots" Say

Henry Worth Thornton, Canadian railway official: "The fundamental obstacle to peace is our hereditary contentious psychology, perhaps dormant but always explosive."

Kidding The Great Ones

Buffalo Bill, (also known as William F. Cody) drew up his foaming Pinto pony before the spectators on his horse show.

They Have Murmured

To have an aim, either as a target, or as an end, or for the making of your life, is to have an objective. By concentrating your thoughts on that objective, you will find that you have no aim at all, and too often become burdened and weary.

For Crying Out Loud

"Mrs. Alice McCrory and son, Harvey, went to Dayton, Ohio, to visit Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dunbar, who were recently injured in an automobile accident last week."