Ice cream is good for all to eat in hot weather. Eat it slowly, however, our doctor says the walnut sticks will keep, so better double the recipe so as to have some on hand for divers occasions.

Today's Recipes

Eggs au Gratin—Two cups milk, one onion, six cloves, two tablespoons butter, four or five eggs, one-half teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon paprika, one cup soft bread crumbs, one cup grated cheese, few grains nutmeg, one milk and the quartered onion in Melt butter, add flour at the milk. Stir until sauce boils, then add one-half teaspoon salt and one-fourth teaspoon paprika. Strain and pour half the sauce in a shallow baking pan. Mix cream, cheese, remaining salt, paprika and macer. Cover sauce with half the crumbs, place in oven until very hot. Break eggs separately and arrange on the top. Surround with remaining sauce, cover with crumbs and bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees F., until eggs are set.

Walnut Sticks—Two whole eggs, one-half cup flour, one cup brown sugar, one teaspoon baking powder, one cup English walnut meal, broken. Bake in layer in medium oven. Cut into "sticks" when cold.

Cherry Roll—One and one-half cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one tablespoon sugar, one-fourth teaspoon salt, three tablespoons fat, one egg, six tablespoons milk. Mix the flour, baking powder, sugar and salt. Cut in the fat with a knife. Add the egg and milk. When a soft dough forms, pat it out until one-fourth inch thick. Spread with pitted, sweetened and slightly thickened cherries, and roll up like a jelly roll. Bake on a greased pan for 20 minutes in a moderate oven. Serve, cut in slices. Serves six.

Vacation Notes

Don't forget your notebook

when going on your vacation. You'll find many new foods, and by jotting the ingredients down in the notebook will be able to duplicate them at home.

Travel Hints

Folding hangers take up little space, and are handy for use on sleepers or at inns that fail to provide for all the needs of the traveler. Individual shoe bags furnish excellent protection for shoes and the rest of the wardrobe. Other essentials which can be confined in a small emergency kit are needles and thread, a kit after shaver and a travel kit for wiping shoes.

Both smart and practical are the lightweight linen traveling bags which the Vogue for air travel has helped to popularize. Not only are they waterproof and scratchproof, but soap and water will keep them looking like new for many a journey. If frequent overnight stops are contemplated, it is advisable to carry a small bag to hold a nightgown, a negligee, and a few necessary toilet accessories.

A cake of soap and running water are sufficient to keep the traveler clean and comfortable. Even though warm water is lacking and no tubs or showers are available, a sponge bath with cold water will prove delightfully refreshing after a hot and dusty train ride.

Ice Box Parts Need Care

Even though you flush the pipes of your ice box with hot soap suds regularly, the cups, traps and other removable parts should be available, a sponge bath with cold water will prove delightfully refreshing after a hot and dusty train ride.

The pieces should be placed in a pail of hot soap suds to which a little washing soda has been added and then scrubbed and scalded thoroughly before they are re-placed.

Quilting Hint

To avoid sore fingers when quilting, put a thimble on left forefinger, hold it under design, push needle down until it touches lower rim of thimble, then push needle up through quilt. This also saves the right thumb from soreness.

Miss Grace Chapman of London has collected large numbers of lions, leopards, monkeys and snakes in Africa for various zoological gardens.

Mrs. Kate Bates, who applied to 26 women for the job of cook and borrowed money from each to go home for her effects, is in jail in Chicago for swindling.

Miss Ellen C. Morse and Miss C. B. Putnam of Boston have resigned after serving 20 and 55 years, respectively, as Sunday School teachers.

Miss Sarah Maybue of Huntington, N. Y., has been teaching school continuously for 57 years during which she was absent from duty only one day.

Society Woman Golfs

Mrs. Leonard Cushing, social regisiter, plays golf at the Women's Long Island Golf Club, Long Island, N. Y.

Miss E. L. Willinger, the only blind telephone operator in Baltimore, has won the commendation of her employers for the speed and accuracy of connections effected by her.

White, Most Popular of Summer Colors, Lends Itself to a Variety of Fashions

By HARRIET

DELIGHTFUL colors to the contrary, notwithstanding, when torrid days come there is nothing like white to make a woman look and feel cool.

This summer white lends itself so graciously to all the latest modes that any type of woman can find her own special choice of costume in white.

Let us consider two very different uses for white frocks. Illustrating with frocks recently worn by society women. Suppose a woman, noted for her chic, is to attend an afternoon event, such as the races and then a garden tea. She wants white. But she wants a very dressy type of costume, one that makes her feel a bit "party-dressed."

A white crepe georgette is just the thing, made not with lace or any touches of contrasting color, but with an accented pleated effect which is often more flattering than lace.

An effective dress of this type has an accented pleated, ruffled upper part of the dress having a wide accented pleated bodice that takes the place of cap sleeves over the sleeveless arms, and then a pleated down the diagonal closing to fasten on the side under a stitched belt of the georgette.

There is a pleated ruffle, like a pelum at hipline which takes a little upward curve for grace right in front. And to top this very dressy little outfit, there is a white wavy Swiss braided hat, with the rather formal narrow crown pleated like the frock.

Proper accessories for such a costume might be a pearl bracelet or white jade, made into a necklace, bracelet and pin.

Here are three types of white costume recommended for summer wear: the dressy white georgette frock, left, with an accented pleated effect; the modernistic sports frock, and the white linen cardigan suit, right, with white linen bag and shoes to match.

This frock fastens down the back with buttons and buttonholes, just like frocks of long ago. With it, a white linen cardigan suit, with a better style at present, is excellent. Short gloves, a purse of white kid and wide-brimmed hat, and a young, modern is well groomed for lunch with some kind of a social event afterwards.

A third type of white outfit that is ever useful is the white cardigan suit, made of linen. The dress should be short sleeved, or sleeveless, with some kind of a feminine neckline, perhaps bow ties or frill, and the coat cut straight but contrasted with its own fabric to enrich its appearance. With this, a stitched linen hat, a white panama, or a white felt is appropriate. Purse, shoes and any scarf you might wear should be of white linen, caplinen, or cotton.
