In Detroit Theaters

"The Middle Watch" which begins the second final week of its presentation at the Detroit Civic Theater next Monday night, was originally written as a lark for the officers of the British Navy.

It is registered so unmistakably however that it was decided to give it to the world at large as a tremendous treat to lovers of farce and romance.

The story was written by two men who knew whereof they wrote—a nautical story of gallantry and laughter that captured London where it has had a lengthy run and also has taken New York by storm.

The story was written by two men who knew whereof they wrote—a nautical story of gallantry and laughter that captured London where it has had a lengthy run and also has taken New York by storm.

It has a hilarious plot, a gay, lovable set of characters and is correct in every sally detail. The farce is spun round two beautiful girls who are forced to spend a night aboard a cruiser, having missed the last tender to shore.

Their predicament at the decision of the Admiral of the Navy to use the cruiser as sleeping quarters for himself furnishes a series of laughable situations such as are seldom witnessed in the theater.

WE RAN an engine on 50 hour tests under exactly the same conditions with various brands of motor oil, including New Iso-Vis. At the end of each period every bit of carbon was removed and accurately measured.

New Iso-Vis actually deposited 30% less carbon than the average deposit of the better grade oils tested.

But this is only one of the results of the special refining process by which this new type oil is made. It lubricates effectively at low temperatures and all the way up to temperatures far beyond the highest on your gauge.

Moreover, New Iso-Vis is the only motor oil that will not thin out in your crankcase. New Iso-Vis is actually at heavy and only when you drain it off as when you first put it in.

Any Standard Oil dealer or station attendant will drain your crankcase, flush and refill with New Iso-Vis.

Three youthful bandits, who held up and robbed Harlem Motors, 1918 Greeley avenue, Detroit, of $15, and forced his young woman companion, Miss Doris Henderson, 19312 Days street, to accompany them in their automobile, escorted the girl, unharmed, to her home. Miss Henderson and Morris were stopped by the trio, who were described as young Italians about 17 or 19 years old, at Fourteen-Mile and Mound roads.
