the final concert of the winter term at Cranbrook arranged by Vernon B. Kellett and the Musical Association, was held in the school auditorium last evening. The artists on the program, entitled "Strauss and Modern Music," were Mrs. James Oliver, of Villa road, Birmingham, and Mr. George P. Becker, of Detroit.

The program was opened by Mrs. Oliver, who told of the life and compositions of Richard Strauss, and illustrated her talk with four Strauss songs. Following an aria by Mr. Becker, the Musical Association sang a song by Schumann and Mr. Becker and Mrs. Oliver each rendering some songs. A duet by the two artists brought the program to a close.

URGES INTEREST IN LOCAL AFFAIRS

John J. Super Addresses Luncheon Club On Principles Of Exchangeism

Birmingham Exchangeism Tuesday noon at Fox & Hounds Tavern given an enthusiastic talk on the principles and policies of Exchangeism when John J. Super, past-president of the Hamtramck club, appeared on the program as speaker. Mr. Super made a cogent plea for better attendance, greater interest in local affairs, and better cooperation between communities.

It pointed out the growth and value of the Detroit Council of Exchange clubs, consisting of 35 clubs, the metropolitan area, and praised Birmingham for its participation in the meetings.

Exchange's part in aiding the cause of aviation were given by Mr. Super, who also asked the Birmingham Exchangeists attend the annual aviation dinner to be held in Detroit Wednesday, Apr. 3.

Prior to Mr. Super's talk, the Exchange club voted to hold its meetings in the new Community Center.

BARONESS ADDRESSES CRANBROOK STUDENTS
Two talks are awaited with considerable interest at Cranbrook School this weekend. This evening, Baroness Ramsay will speak on "Finland" at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium. Dr. Amos O. Squires, physician at Sing Sing Prison will give a talk on "Famous Criminals I Know" Saturday evening in the auditorium.

WINS SCHOLARSHIP CUP
Miss Dorothy Faddis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Faddis, of 592 Woodward avenue, a freshman at Albion college, won the Kappa Delta scholarship cup for having the highest grades for the first semester of all the pledges in that sorority.

The Chain Store

There is considerable current discussion regarding the policies of Chain Stores. Here and there, organizations are appearing with a deliberate purpose of defending the independent merchant and propounding his cause. These organizations are investigating the abusive practices of the chain stores and declaring their parasitical attachment to community life. They are seeking to boycott the chain store. Certainly the efforts of any organized body to eliminate the chain store from this country will end unsuccessfully. Their efforts may, however, introduce a new type of chain store whose policies are above reproach and criticism. In any event, the chain store will continue. What will become of the independent merchant? Will he pass out of the picture? In our opinion he will continue. We shall discuss his future next week.
