

SCOUTS PLAN FOR BIG EVENT

Largest Court of Honor To Be Held, May 23, At New House

Plans are being formed today for the Boy Scout court of honor to be held at the Community House, Friday, May 23, by members of the Birmingham District Committee and officers of the four troops in the village. Plans are being made to have this the largest and most impressive court of honor which has been held here. It will be the first in the Community House.

Probable speakers on the program will be A. Douglas Jamieson, former president of the District Council, Boy Scouts of America, and now connected with the Union Trust Company, though actively affiliated with Scout work. Richard Thompson, camping director for the Detroit Council, Field Commissioner White, of the Detroit Council, and several other men prominent in Scout work in Detroit and Birmingham.

Two or three Eagle awards, the highest honor the Boy Scouts of America can confer on a Scout, are expected to be received at this court. A large number of other advancements, in merit badges, first class awards, and Star and Life awards will also be made. Several Veteran Scout pins will also be awarded, as will be badges for full-fledged Junior Examiners.

The local Boy Scout band, composed of Scout musicians from the Baldwin High and Adams Junior High bands which played for the first time at the annual birthday celebration in February, will also be on the program, the committee announced.

Birmingham Scouts are rushing work to complete tests on various awards before May 12, which is the time limit for all applications for awards.

DRUNK DRIVER GETS 30 DAYS

BOY PRODIGY WILL PLAY AT MAY FESTIVAL AT ANN ARBOR, MAY 16

When Ruggiero Ricci, who will play at the Ann Arbor May Festival on the afternoon of Friday, May 16, a nine year old boy of diminutive stature, walked on the stage of Mecca Auditorium in New York last winter and played with orchestral accompaniment the three formidable movements of the Mendelssohn Violin Concerto in E Minor, he amazed and astonished his hearers. By the time he finished, he had astounded his bewildered audience by a performance which was perfection in every particular.

Small and overmatched seemed the child who came upon the platform, his dark hair tossing and his face as rare and exquisite as that of a cherub of Raphael, to pit himself not only against an orchestra of five score grown men but also a composition designed to exploit the utmost virtuosity of the human brain and hand.

Any violinist will tell you that the opening page of the Mendelssohn Concerto, with its immediate plunge into sustained melody, to say nothing of the famous octave, is one of the most taxing compositions written for the violin.

The familiar opening theme sang in a tone so delicate that the melody seemed its own faint wrath. The sound was touching and sweet, clear and pure. It bore the intonation of a phenomenal and faultless ear.

When the ordeal of passage-work arrived, it was surmounted by Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Curtis of Detroit visited in Bay City, Sunday.
