

To meet another person, and to chat with that person with only a sincere desire to fraternize and the brotherhood of mankind, that is worth doing. With no motive but true friendship, good adventure lies ahead.

FIFTY-THIRD YEAR—NO. 31

WISE OUTS SCHOOL BOARD AT MEETING

Education Group Secretary Resigns Because Of Other Duties

REGRETS EXPRESSED

The resignation of Guy W. Jensen, of Madison avenue, as a member of the Birmingham board of education was tendered by himself at a special meeting Monday night, effective immediately. It was accepted with regret. Mr. Jensen has been a member of the board for more than four years; since July he has been secretary. He has been in the city of Detroit most of the time he has been necessary in Birmingham to justify his continuing membership of the board of education, much to his regret and disappointment. Mr. Jensen said that he has been a most interesting and delightful service, and he has appreciated the confidence and the confidence of the electorate, and will continue to exercise a deep interest in all school matters.

Mr. Jensen, since becoming a member of the board, has been very active in the schools, and has aided very materially in the plans for some of the better school improvements, including the Quorton and enlarged Barnum buildings.

Birmingham Ladies Enjoy Gay 'Nineties In Greenfield Village

By DOROTHY WEBSTER SHUART

The gay nineties, of which we have heard so much lately, pale into insignificance when a group of Birmingham ladies, guests of Mrs. Henry Ford on Saturday last, enjoyed the sights of Greenfield Village. The occasion was the finale to the convention of the National Farm and Garden Association.

Old station wagons, cabs, and coaches, with the accompanying music on the box, carry us from the famous Smith's Creek Depot, where Edison as a boy of 15 was out of the train (near Port Huron) by an irate conductor for starting a conflagration on the baggage car while experimenting with chemicals. On to Menlo Park to find Myra K. Zell, the only living member who with Edison at the time he made the first successful incandescent lamp. The laboratory in the old two-story frame building brought from northern New Jersey and reconstructed it in 1876.
