

WOMAN HURT ON WOODWARD

Mrs. Wanless, Struck By Auto, In Serious Condition in Hospital

Mrs. Mary E. Wanless, 50 years old, domestic in the family of Walter S. Ryan, Woodmont, and Fourteen-Mile road, Beverly Hills, received serious injuries at a few minutes past 10 o'clock last night when she is reported by local police to have stepped in front of a south-bound motor car driven by Harvey Shaw, of 555 Margaret street, Detroit. Shaw stopped his car and rushed the injured woman to the office of Dr. C. P. Lawler, here, where first aid was administered, after which she was taken to the St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, by the Dewey Kimball ambulance service.

A compound fracture of the right leg, a crushed left hip, and serious cuts and contusions about the head were received by Mrs. Wanless when the right front fender of the Shaw machine hit her in front of the Ryan residence. She was thrown to the pavement.

According to reports, Mrs. Wanless has been employed by the Ryan family since June, was coming home from a visit with relatives in Detroit, where her daughter resides at Pasadena and Lincoln avenues, Highland Park. With Shaw in the machine were two women and other man, friends in Detroit.

Birmingham officers who handled the case were Leo Stiles, James Anderson, and Henry Timms.

According to Shaw, Mrs. Wanless had stepped from a north-bound bus and tried to dodge through some rather heavy traffic to the west side of Woodward avenue when his machine struck her. Shaw was taken to the Birmingham police station where he made a report, and was released.

That the "hope of reward" is more effective than "the fear of punishment" was proven in Ferndale Friday by Ferndale Police who served "hot dogs" to children celebrating Halloween.

Groups of children congregating in the streets were kept to the free "hot dog" stands in the village and corners two calls were received at headquarters from persons complaining of Halloween pranks. These calls were to inform residents complaining that children were ringing door bells.
