JUNIOR LEAGUE TO SPONSOR SALE OF GIFTS AT CRANBROOK, OCT. 21-22

MRS. ELLIOTT S. NICHOLS

A sale, sponsored by the members of the Junior League, will be held at the home of Mrs. George G. Booth, Cranbrook, next Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 21 and 22, from 10 a. m. until 6 p. m. Tea will be served from four until six o'clock.

Many Christmas gifts will be offered for sale, such as breakfast and luncheon sets, beverage napkins, coat hangers, and taffeta and linen fashion. Orders will be taken for the monogramming of fine linen and chiffon handkerchiefs. Attractive and "different" aprons and many practical things will be on display, such as garment and shoe bags, log carriers, ice and vegetable bags, and tea towels.

Cripples and shut-ins, and a few foreign-born women who speak no English and who have no other outlet for their exquisite handiwork make these articles. The Junior League of Detroit is composed of a group of young women who banded together to help those less fortunate to help themselves. Materials and designs are taken to the workers to be executed, and then, by such sales as this, the finished products bring their remuneration.

Mrs. Nichols, Chairman

The committee in charge of the sale consists of Mrs. Elliott S. Nichols, chairman; Mrs. Henry S. Booth, Mrs. Colvin Pitts Vary, Mrs. Henry C. Duffield, Mrs. George C. Booth, and Mrs. Robert Hargreaves.

Mrs. Henry Booth will have charge of the unpacking and arrangement of the exhibit Tuesday, and Mrs. Vary will be in charge on Wednesday. Assisting Mrs. Vary will be Mrs. Hargreaves, Mrs. F. P. Holt, Mrs. George C. Booth, Mrs. Aldemar P. Adams, Mrs. Guy Smith, Mrs. Henry Duffield, Mrs. Nelson Eldred, and Mrs. Osgood Williams.

Every member of the Bloomfield group will assist in the sale, together with Mrs. John B. Williams, Mrs. Francis J. McDonough, Jr., Mrs. Harry L. Wallace, Mrs. Frank Wernicken, and Mrs. James A. Beresford.

RICHARDS SINGS FOR ROTARY ANNS

Baritone Entertains Club At Home Of Mrs. Elmer Huston

The Rotary Anns met Monday at the home of Mrs. Elmer Huston on East Maple avenue for luncheon, a business meeting and a musical program. A program promised by the Thursday Musicale for entertainment was not given, owing to the inability of some of the entertainers to be present, and was postponed until later in the year.

Instead, Mr. Robert Richards and Mr. Eddie Edwards, who had entertained the Rotary Club earlier in the day, rendered a group of songs. Mr. Richards is the new pastor of the Clarenceville and Southfield Burg Methodist Church.

New members present at the meeting were Mrs. W. E. Mosher, of Lakeside drive, Mrs. J. E. Torrent, of Yorkshire road, Mrs. Harry E. Taylor, of West Maple avenue, and Mrs. Harry E. Biffett, of George street.

A. A. U. W. BOOK SALE IN HANNA BLDG. IS SUCCESS; CONTINUES THIS WEEK

Success is attending the A. A. U. W. book sale being held this week in the Hanna Building, with receipts taken in up to Wednesday noon amounting to $362.69, or considerably more than was realized last year from the entire sale. Mrs. C. H. Ranney, chairman of sales, announces. Mondays sales totalled $186.25 from 1,018 books and 551 magazines, Tuesday's, $138.53 from 945 books and 229 magazines; and Wednesday's, up until noon, $27.95 from 149 books and 29 magazines.

Many large sales are reported by Mrs. Ranney, with the largest, to one person, $27.95, and the second largest, $24. Fiction and children's books have been the best sellers. Many full sets of magazines have been sold, Mrs. Ranney says.

Much interest has been shown in an old library of 1,000 volumes donated by Mrs. Frances A. Smith, of Buffalo, N. Y. This was part of the old Benedict and Mason library at 221 Erskine street, Detroit, and on Mrs. Benedict's death was left to her daughter, who intended to sell it, but gave it to the Birmingham branch of A. A. U. W. instead, through the appeal of Mrs. Loren Stauch. Books and magazines are still coming in, and will be sold throughout the sale. There is an especial demand for fiction and children's books, Mrs. Ranney says.

A large staff of helpers is assisting Mrs. Ranney and the hostesses in selling. Mrs. Harrison Stringham will be hostess today; Mrs. Harvey F. Cornwell, tomorrow, and Mrs. Hugh H. Wellman, Saturday. They will be aided by about 30 other members of the A. A. U. W. Hostesses the first part of the week were Mrs. Ranney, on Monday, Mrs. Warren Pease, Jr., on Tuesday, and Mrs. Arthur H. Otis on Wednesday.

MRS. C. H. RANNEY

Such great popularity is enjoyed by the store in the evenings, that it has been necessary to keep it open until 10:30 p. m. The proceeds of the sale will be turned over to the Fellowship Fund.

MISS RASEY HEARD IN FIRST LECTURE

Discusses Problems Of Adolescence At Meeting Of University Women's Group

The problems of adolescence and the means of arriving at a common understanding of them were discussed Friday by Miss Marie Rasey, pupil of Dr. Alfred Adler and an official of the Children's Fund of Michigan, in the first of a series of lectures to be given weekly under the auspices of Birmingham branch of the American Association of University Women in the Community House.

Miss Rasey said that in the period of infancy one adjusts oneself to a physical world, using phantasy as the call to escape life's hardships. In the period of adolescence, Miss Rasey pointed out, one adjusts oneself to personality, learning how to discard phantasy with others. It is the duty of the adult to help these adolescents to discard phantasy and face reality, Miss Rasey said. The last period is the period of maturity, when one adjusts oneself to the infinite motion of things, she added.
