BAD CHECK CASE HEARING IS TODAY

Judge Back To Hear Charge Delayed 13 Times In 4 Months

After 12 adjournments in the case against Charles W. Chapman, 617 South Connecticut street, Roy, Ok, definite action is expected to be taken today in the court of Justice Floyd S. Buck. Chapman is at liberty on $500 bond on a charge of uttering and publishing a worthless check. The charge is preferred by the William H. Byrne and Son Co., a Detroit hardware firm.

The defendant was arraigned July 25 in the court of Justice John Bove, of Royal Oak. Members of the Byrne firm charged that Chapman had given them a check for $14.99 last November in payment for a bill, and that the check was later found to be worthless. He pleaded not guilty and demanded an examination, which was set for Aug. 7, and furnished bail. On Aug. 2, examination was postponed until a week later. When the case was called, Aug. 8, it was revealed that the Byrne

William T. Murley, 25, Died On Sunday

William T. Murley, 25 years old, of Monnier road, a resident of Oakland County for a year and a half, died Sunday in the Oakland County Contagious Hospital of pneumonia.

Funeral services were held yesterday at Cleveland, O., at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Murley. The body was shipped Tuesday from the Farmers' Funeral Parlors in Pontiac to Cleveland. Besides his widow, Mrs. Katherine Murley, and a three-year-old son, Murley leaves his parents.

Co. had previously sued Chapman for the amount of the check and had won a judgment, part of which it had collected. Consequently, Chapman's attorney asked that the criminal charge be dismissed. The case was adjourned, and attorneys for the defense and the prosecution were requested to submit briefs on the matter. Since then, the case has been called and adjourned 10 times. Justice Buck said that if action is not taken today, the case will be dismissed.

Hagen Again Great Showman In Beating Armour For Title

Wins P. G. A. Championship, 3-2, In Tourney at Birmingham Golf Club, Sunday

In winning the Michigan Professional Golf championship at the Birmingham Golf Club Sunday afternoon, Walter Hagen again accomplished the spectacular and his 3 and 2 victory over Tommy Armour was typical golf as played by the game's greatest showman, "The Haig."

Playing against Charlie Guest, Louren's pro, in the semi-finals, Hagen was heard to remark that "he and Charlie were just hanging them around a bit" but their match was close-fought and Hagen found it no easy job to eliminate his opponent. Charlie had been counted out by most of the dopsters who made up the gallery, but only Hagen's remarkable 30-foot putt on the eighteenth hole of the afternoon round decided the match. Guest losing one up.

Yields On Sixteenth
Against Armour, recognized as golf's master of irons, Hagen, holding only the scantest of margins until the final nine of the match, Tommy dropped the tenth and eleventh on the ninth and yielded at the dogleg sixteenth.

Armour, the leading professional this season, was one down at the turn. On the tenth he pulled his second, pitched short and lost the hole, Hagen shooting a birdie four. The turning point in the contest, however, occurred at the next hole when "The Haig" laid a perfect stymie and Tam O'Shanter's pro was forced to bump Hagen's ball into the cup. On the fifteenth, Armour regained one of his lost holes when Hagen three-putted but on the sixteenth in his attempt for a

VILLAGE PLANNERS O.K. TREE CUTTING

Poplar Trees To Come Down; Others Will Take Their Places

Concurring in the recommendation of the Village Plan Commission that all poplar trees on main thoroughfares in the village be cut down with the provision that they be replaced with other trees, the Village Commission Monday night passed a resolution permitting the raising of the trees.

The commission's action was the direct result of a petition of Mr. F. W. Lawrence, 606 Southfield avenue, a few weeks ago, who asked permission to cut down two poplar trees in front of his home. The poplar tree roots, he stated, clogged the mains in front of his home and seriously damaged the sidewalk in front of his residence.

MICHIGAN'S VICTORY OVER PURDUE HELPED BY FORMER VILLAGE STAR

Birmingham residents who attended the Michigan-Purdue football contest at Ann Arbor Saturday were enthusiastic in their applause for the part played in Michigan's 14-23 victory by Roderick Cox, the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Howard Cox, 1940 East Maple avenue.

Cox, a graduate of Baldwin High School and one of the best grid stars the school has produced, was rated as a second string back until Thursday when he was shifted from fullback to end. He fought his way to a position on the first team against the severest of competition and his stellar defense work brought the following laudatory comment in the Michigan Daily:

Ever On Alert
"While the entire team played as if it had never played before, the performance of one man stands out. Cox, a sophomore who had never dreamed of playing end before last Thursday, proved himself under fire by breaking up plays after play which seemed destined to gain yards for the Hoosiermakers. Ever on the alert, Cox was down under the punts and again smearing the runner."
When Cox attended high school in Bloomfield Hills, he played various positions on the team, ranging from center to end and in all of the backfield positions. In his last and most successful year here Cox played fullback and captained the team. That year the team won nine games and lost just two for one of the best records ever compiled by a football team representing the Birmingham high school.

Cox is the first player who received his intercollegiate training in Birmingham ever to win a regular position on the varsity of the University of Michigan.

WOODWARD ASKS CONVENTION HERE

Commission To Join Him In Inviting Baptist Group To Meet In 1931

Upon the petition of the Rev. David Leon Woodward, pastor of the First Baptist Church, the Village Commission Monday night agreed to communicate with the Michigan Baptist Convention at Grand Rapids, inviting that organization to hold its 1931 convention in Birmingham.

Commissioner Robert R. Allen made the motion that President Harry Allen be delegated to write a letter welcoming the convention here. The Rev. Woodward announced that Birmingham has never been host to the convention and that while the village has no facilities and approximately 400 delegates would be expected to attend, in addition to the Detroit delegates, Birmingham would be an advantageous place for the convention. Arrangements with hotels in Pontiac might be made to accommodate the convention for the four-day session, he said.

Rev. Carl Ansoorge To Direct Service

Services at the Redeemer Lutheran Church next Sunday will be conducted by the Rev. Carl Ansoorge, a student of theology at the Concordia Seminary at St. Louis, Mo., according to an announcement made today by the Rev. E. L. Rossow, pastor of the Pilgrim Evangelical Lutheran Church of Detroit, who is acting as temporary pastor of the Birmingham Church pending the appointment of a successor to the Rev. Roland E. Seeger. The Rev. Seeger last week accepted a call to the Lutheran Church at Greenboro, N. C.
