Social Group Is Attracted To Annual Hunt Club Ball

Society last week-end congregated at the Bloomfield Open Hunt Club, which because of the steeply rising and rolling terrain, and accompanying social events, was the center of interest. A large group headed the annual ball, held in the huge indoor riding ring, transformed into a festive ballroom, in the women wearing colorful gowns, and men in the traditional pink coats. Among the many who entertained at dinner before the ball were Mr. William G. Lerchen, president of the club, and Mrs. Lerchen, whose guests were members of the board of directors and their wives, as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Hiram, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott S. Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. H. Augustus O'Dell, Miss Elton Skae, Mr. Hiram Hopper, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Hammond, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Donovan, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Hiram, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton M. Higbie, Dr. and Mrs. George F. Raynal, Mr. William Hesse Clark, and Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Gagner.

Honoring her house-guest, Mrs. Carl Stephens, of Woman, Mass., entertained at a buffet luncheon for out-of-town visitors and a group of friends Saturday preceding the races. Other week-end guests for the races included Mr. and Mrs. George Greenhalgh, of Toledo, visiting Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Donovan; and Mr. and Mrs. Carter P. Brown, of Holland, Mich., the

JUNIOR A. U. W. IS ORGANIZED

Organization of the Junior Birmingham branch of the American Association of University Women was effected Thursday evening, when 18 recent college graduates held their first meeting, elected officers and made tentative plans for the coming year.

Membership will be extended to women who have completed an approved list, while associate membership will be granted those who have attended any of these colleges for two years or more, and to those who are graduates of smaller colleges, provided that the last year of college attendance was within the past 10 years. Women residing in Birmingham or nearby towns who are eligible and interested in the movement, are urged to communicate with Miss Alice Hagelshaw, chairman of the membership committee, at 224 Gray Court, telephone 1507.

First Of Lecture Series On Oct. 10

A series of lectures and round-table discussions on human relations, particularly with reference to the psychology of adolescents, will be given, beginning Oct. 10, in the Baldwin Library, by Miss Marie Rasey under the auspices of the Birmingham branch of the American Association of University Women.

Miss Rasey is a pupil of the famous Dr. Alfred Adler, of Vienna. She is also a director of Parental Education of the Metropolitan School, an official of the Children's Fund of Michigan, and an active worker for the Laura Spellman Rockefeller Foundation.

The lectures will be given on Friday afternoons at two o'clock on Oct. 10, 17 and 31, Nov. 7 and 14, and Dec. 5. Further information and tickets may be obtained from the committee which is composed of Mrs. John K. Ormond, Mrs. Perry Hill, Mrs. E. E. Keller, Mrs. Charles M. Davis and Mrs. H. H. Wellman.

ROTARY ANNS MEET
The Rotary Anns will meet, Oct. 13, at the home of Mrs. Elmer Huston, 1235 East Maple avenue, for luncheon, a business meeting, and a program, most carefully arranged by the Thursday Musical. Assisting Mrs. Huston with arrangements will be Mrs. Lawrence Smith, Mrs. Joseph Stroup, Mrs. George Boutwell, and Mrs. Tunis Miner.

A feature of the evening was the presentation of gifts of Mr. Strand, who also celebrated his birthday Monday. Various costumes of the "hard times" variety were worn by the hosts and their guests.

Mrs. Chas. J. Shain Resumes Courses

Round table discussions in international relations will be conducted again this fall under the direction of Mrs. Charles J. Shain. Her first meeting to be held Oct. 21. New and former students will be grouped together in one class to meet Tuesday between 10 and 11 a. m. in the Community House. Those who take the course are urged to be prompt.

In addition, Mrs. Shain is opening a study forum for both men and women of the village 7:45 to 9 on Tuesday evenings, beginning Oct. 25, at the Community House. Public affairs of the United States and foreign countries will be discussed. Outside speakers will on some occasions be secured. Both courses are open to the public.
